

U. S. DISAGREES TO CHINESE LOAN

WILSON'S STATEMENT, APPROVED BY CABINET, IS MADE PUBLIC.

TAFT'S DOCTRINE IS OPPOSED

President Declares This Government's Aim Is to Aid China By Open Door Policy.

Washington, March 18.—President Wilson tonight in a statement approved by his cabinet after two hours of discussion, announced that his administration had declined to request the group of American bankers to continue their negotiations for participation in the $125,000,000 loan desired by the Chinese government.

The statement came as a consequence of the visit to Washington last week of representatives of the American banking firms headed by William D. Strakosky. They had a conference with Secretary Bryan, who took the situation up with the president. Officials of the Chinese embassy also discussed the subject with Secretary Bryan and the president. Mr. Bryan was not present at today's cabinet meeting, but was consulted about the statement before his departure for the West.

It was authoritatively stated tonight that the same policy would apply throughout the Wilson administration to parallel situations in Central America and elsewhere, in which the United States was concerned.

Taft's "Dollar Diplomacy."

The policy of protecting, through the influence of the local government, loan enterprises of American banking firms abroad was a part of what was often referred to as "dollar diplomacy" during the Taft administration.

During the last administration, Secretary Knox urged the passage of two loan conventions, seeking to rehabilitate the finance of Nicaragua and Honduras, respectively. The United States was to have had a voice in the selection of inspectors of customs, in which medium the interests of the American banking firms were to be protected. The banking firms were to submit for the approval of the president of the United States and of the Central American governments, a list of customs inspectors. The loan conventions were not ratified by the senate and the Taft administration closed without determining how far the American government should go in protecting its financial firms abroad.

In Santo Domingo a somewhat similar process is in actual operation, but it will continue to exist by virtue of the treaty between this country and the Dominican republic, ratified during the Roosevelt administration. Here the United States appointed a receiver-general of customs, to collect duties which constituted the guarantee for the payment of the Dominican republic of its foreign debt.

The withdrawal today of the aid of this government to what has been popularly known as the "six-power" loan brings to an end, so far as can be forecast at present, the diplomatic activity of the United States in that connection. Negotiations for the floating of the big loan have been in progress for more than two years, during which time the amount of the loan rose from $125,000,000 at first, to $250,000,000, subsequently suggested. Finally, upon the request of the Chinese government, it was reduced to $125,000,000, as it was announced that the present internal improvements were not to be as extensive as at first planned.

The loan originally was desired by China when in the throes of reconstruction after the fall of the Manchu dynasty. A Belgian syndicate was at first approached, but later England, France, Germany, Russia, Japan and the United States sought a share in the flotation of the loan.

While today's statement means the end of governmental support to the loan project, as at present advanced, it is pointed out in official circles here that American banking firms still can share a part of the loan independently and without the guarantee of support from this government.

The statement follows: "We are informed that at the request of the last administration, a certain group of American bankers undertook to participate in the loan project desired by the government of China (approximately $125,000,000). Our government wished American bankers to participate along with the bankers of other nations, because it desired that the good will of the United States toward China should be exhibited in this practical way; that American capital should have access to that great country and that the United States should be in a position to share with the other powers any political responsibility that might be associated with the development of the foreign relations of China in connection with her industrial and commercial enterprises.

The present administration has been asked by this group of bankers whether it would also request them to participate in the loan. The representatives of the bankers, through whom the administration was approached, declared that they were willing to seek their share of the loan and would do so by the government. The administration has declined to make such request, because it did not approve the conditions of the loan or the responsibility on its own part which would be involved in the request.

"Obnoxious to Principles."

The conditions of the loan seem to us to touch very nearly the administrative independence of China itself, and this administration does not feel that it can, by its application, to be a party to those conditions. The responsibility on its part, which would be implied in requesting the Victims of Assassins

There is scarcely a country in the world that has not at some time felt the hand of the assassin. Emperors, kings, presidents and statesmen have been slain by anarchists, persons disgruntled because of real or imaginary wrongs, fanatics, insane persons and political conspirators. Since the year 1801 the toll of the assassin among old world rulers and presidents of republics is as follows:

- Paul, emperor of Russia, March 24, 1801.
 - Abraham Lincoln, president of the United States, April 14, 1865.
 - Abdül Aziz, sultan of Turkey, June 4, 1876.
 - James A. Garfield, president of the United States, July 2, 1881.
 - Alexander, emperor of Russia, March 12, 1881.
 - Sadi Carnot, president of France, June 24, 1894.
 - Nazr-Eddin, shah of Persia, May 1, 1896.
 - Bordia Idrarte, president of Uruguay, August 25, 1897.
 - Elizabeth, empress of Austria, September 10, 1898.
 - General Hereux, president of the Dominican republic, July 26, 1899.
 - Humbert, king of Italy, July 29, 1900.
 - William McKinley, president of the United States, September 6, 1901.
 - Alexander, king of Serbia, June 11, 1902.
 - Carlota, queen of Serbia, June 11, 1902.
 - Carlos, king of Portugal, February 1, 1908.
 - Louise, crown prince of Portugal, February 1, 1908.
- Many attempts at assassination have been made in recent years upon notable persons, including Theodore Roosevelt.

Cato Sells May Be Named Comptroller of Currency Soon

Washington, March 18.—Many applications have been received by President Wilson and Secretary McAdoo for the post of comptroller of the currency, which becomes vacant April 28, when the five-year term of Lawrence O. Murray expires. The administration, it is said, will give careful thought to the appointment because of prospective currency reform. The president is expected to seek a man in close sympathy with his ideas on monetary legislation. At the head of the national banking system, the comptroller of the currency may be of material assistance in drafting new currency laws.

Among those who are mentioned for the place are R. C. Keller, Chicago; Lon Stevens, St. Louis; I. R. Stevens, Huntsville, Ala.; Cato Sells, Texas; J. R. Downing, Jersey City, N. J.; E. Marshall, Missouri; Samuel Ludlow, Jersey City, N. J. and C. E. Cooper, Alabama.

Dealers in Human Hair Are Wanted for $1,000,000 Fraud

New York, March 18.—Antonio Musica and his son, Philip, dealers in human hair, with branches and connections all over the world, were indicted here this afternoon on a charge of defrauding A. and J. W. Seligman, bankers, out of $1,000,000 by means of fraudulent invoices. The transaction, District Attorney Whitman asserted, is one of many through which the Musicas have defrauded twenty-two American and foreign banks out of approximately $1,000,000. Father and son, it is believed, have defrauded the city. Detectives today expressed the belief that they were bound for South America and will be apprehended within twenty-four hours at Key West or New Orleans. Antonio Musica's two daughters, Louise and Grace, also have disappeared.

On the Fabre line pier there are 288 cases of human hair consigned by the Musicas to merchants in Europe. This hair, the Musicas claimed five days ago, was of the finest quality on the market. They billed it at top figures and on the strength of these invoices, it is claimed, obtained from bankers invoices covering the full value of the cases of at least a portion of the shipment.

How much of the $600,000 which this shipment is worth, according to their figures, was collected from bankers the district attorney has not determined this afternoon. In the indictment a different story from the invoices when opened. The entire shipment, experts say, was worth about what it would cost to haul it away.

The specific charge is the Musicas, through their corporation, the United States Hair company, obtained on March 11 from the Seligmans $16,793 to cover the value of nine cases of hair shipped to Marseilles.

Pastor Gets Drink; He Informs Police; Trouble Is in Sight

Lawrence, Kan., March 18.—A hotel porter's mistake in assuming that a Methodist bishop who complained of being thirsty, wanted whiskey instead of water, has started an investigation that will probably lead to the exposure of persons here engaged in the illegal sale of intoxicants.

"I am thirsty; please get me a drink," the bishop said to the porter, who showed him to his room in a local hotel yesterday.

"Certainly, sir," replied the porter. Five minutes later he returned and handed the churchman a bottle of whiskey.

The incident was reported to the city and county officials, who have taken steps to learn who supplied the liquor.

'BOSS' COX FACES TWO INDICTMENTS

FORMER POLITICAL LEADER AND TEN OTHERS IN THE COURT.

ALLEGED VIOLATORS OF LAW TO COOPERATE WITH HOUSE

Eleven Men Must Answer Accusations of Disobeying State Bank Measures in Ohio.

Cincinnati, March 18.—George B. Cox, former political leader here and one-time president of the Cincinnati Trust company, together with ten other officers and directors of the trust company, were charged with having violated the state banking laws in indictments returned today by the Hamilton county grand jury. The others indicted were:

- Nathaniel S. Keith, secretary of the trust company.
- Fletcher R. Williams, treasurer.
- J. M. Crawford, director, once consul general at St. Petersburg.
- Charles H. Davis, director, former president of the Second National bank here.
- David G. Edwards, director, a broker.
- Dr. James F. Trust, director.
- James M. Hutton, director, broker.
- V. Parish, Hamilton, Ohio, a director.
- Norman G. Kenan, director, former president of the Union Gas and Electric company.
- I. N. Miller, director, superintendent of the Western Union Telegraph company here.

Two indictments were returned. One of nine counts charged Cox, Davis, Kenan, Hutton, Miller, Keith, Williams and Williams with misapplication of $115,000 of the trust company's money through alleged illegal loans to the Ford & Johnson Chair company of Indianapolis. Cox was also a director of the chair company.

The second indictment in two counts charged Cox, Crawford, Davis, Edwards, Hutton, Keith, Williams and Parish with the abstraction of a note for $252,500 with the intent to defraud the trust company.

All of the defendants except Hutton and Hutton were returned. All gave bonds for $5000 in each indictment. August Herrmann, president of the Cincinnati club of the National baseball league, signed the bonds for Cox's release.

Attorney General Timothy Hogan of Columbus, who has aided in the grand jury investigation of the affairs of the trust company, announced that he would assist in the trials of the defendants, and said an effort would be made to get trials at the next term of court.

The affairs of the trust company have been subject to investigation for most of the time since its absorption by the Provident Savings Bank and Trust company in December, 1911.

The indictments charging misapplication also were based on transactions with the Ford & Johnson chair company, which loans of $115,000 were made to the chair company when that concern owed more than $500,000 to the state law, the trust company, which was incorporated for $500,000 was forbidden to loan more than $100,000 to any one individual, firm or corporation.

The maximum penalty of the law under which the indictments were brought is a fine of $10,000 or thirty years imprisonment or both. No date is set for arraignment of the defendants to enter pleas of defense.

WILSON FOR ECONOMY

CONGRESS TO MAKE GENERAL FIGHT FOR LOWER EXPENSE.

Aim Is to Have Revenues of Government Take Care of All Federal Operations.

Washington, March 18.—A general fight to cut down federal expenditures and bring them within the estimated revenues of the government, is to be made in the special session of congress as soon as the tariff bills have been disposed of by the house. President Wilson's letter to Senator Tillman, made public today, in which he declared himself in favor of a "careful and wise" plan, lent new strength to the plan, now well under way in congress, to bring the country's enormous expenditures under some central control.

While President Wilson's budget ideas have not been outlined to members of congress, it is not expected that the budget system will be urged as the basis of the democratic appropriation system. This plan has many bitter opponents including many members of the committees which handle appropriations and it is expected that efforts in congress will be directed along different lines.

The economy commission appointed by the democrats in the house in the caucus of March 3 will not meet until the house has disposed of tariff bills in the extra session. Efforts then will be made to devise a plan for handling the estimates and appropriations that come before the regular session in December.

A sharp division exists between Chairman Fitzgerald of the appropriations committee, who favors giving all appropriation bills to that committee with authority to act as a general budget committee and Representative Sherley of Kentucky, who has proposed a special budget committee and leading members of the chairman and leading members of a number of important committees.

The congressional advocates of the budget plans intend to confer fully with President Wilson before attempting to agree on any system of general control over expenditures.

DEMOCRATS AGREE ON TARIFF PLAN

NEW SENATE FINANCE COMMITTEE DISCUSSES DOWNWARD REVISION.

TO COOPERATE WITH HOUSE

General Harmony Is Announced After Meeting—More Conferences Will Be Held.

Washington, March 18.—Democratic members of the new senate finance committee today agreed upon a plan of traffic action that will have important bearing upon the downward revision plans of President Wilson and the house tariff leaders. In a conference participated in by all democrats on the committee except Senator Stone and Senator James, a policy of close co-operation with the house was outlined, through which it is hoped that the house bills can be made acceptable to the senate and pushed through that body with but little amendment and without delay of committee hearings. Senate leaders stated tonight there is general harmony among the democratic senators with the house democrats on the tariff bills.

In order to carry out the policy of co-operation with the house, it is said the senate probably will have to accept much greater reductions in tariff rates than that body approved at the last session. Members of the finance committee today expressed the belief, however, that this willingness on the part of the senate would cause the house to exercise caution against making extreme cuts, with the idea that they would be modified in the senate.

Propose Conferences.

Conferences with Chairman Underwood of the house ways and means committee will be asked for during the next week or two and the democratic membership of the senate will be canvassed thoroughly before the extra session convenes.

The members of the committee expressed confidence that the senate itself would follow the lead of the committee in all tariff matters. The plan will be to take all questions into caucus, and it is believed the caucus will support the committee. The present democratic strength in the senate is 50 to 44 republicans and progressives and it is counted that even in cases of the filing of the two Illinois vacancies and the defection of democrats on certain schedules, there still would be enough votes to put through any bill agreed on by caucus with the controlling vote held by the democratic vice president, Mr. Marshall.

Senator Simmons, the new chairman of the finance committee, presided over the meeting today. He made no formal statement of his position but expressed a willingness to fall in with the house plans of revision. He was appointed chairman of a subcommittee to confer with the democratic members of the ways and means committee of the house, who are making the tariff bills.

The finance committee practically decided to have no senate tariff hearings, because of the extensive hearings conducted by the house committee and the debate that occurred during the last congress.

Republican senators have notified the democrats that they will insist on debating the tariff bills fully in the senate and that an early adjournment of the senate would be necessary if the republican opposition to the tariff revision bills has not been developed.

BULLET FIRED BY COUNTRYMAN KILLS KING GEORGE OF GREECE

KING GEORGE OF GREECE
Who Was Assassinated by a Demented Subject.

KING GEORGE'S CAREER.

King George was in his sixty-eighth year and had ruled fifty years. He was a brother of Queen Mother Alexandra of England and son of the late king of Denmark. He was chosen king of the Hellenes in 1863, in succession to Otto I.

A previous attempt to assassinate him was made in 1898. It was frustrated.

King George was married in October, 1867, to Princess Olga, eldest daughter of the Grand Duke Constantine of Russia, a brother of the late Emperor Alexander II.

Crown Prince Constantine, who has been in active command of the Greek troops throughout the Balkan hostilities and who, at the head of the army which recently captured the Turkish fortress of Janina with its garrison of 32,000 men, will be the successor of his father. His wife is Princess Sophia, a sister of the German emperor.

King George often was rated as an autocratic monarch, but in spirit he was democratic and did much for the prosperity of Greece, which advanced rapidly under his rule. He took great interest in the organization of the defensive forces of the country and with the assistance of the crown, he brought the army to a state of efficiency which enabled it to overcome the Turkish resistance at the beginning of the war.

His name was mentioned after hostilities broke out as a candidate for the presidency of a permanent federation of the Balkan states, consisting of Bulgaria, Serbia, Montenegro and Greece.

And when King George arrived in Saloniki in November with Prince Constantine and Prince George, he was warmly greeted by the Greek metropolitan and the senior officers of his army. All houses were decorated with the Greek flag and thousands of people assembled to cheer him. He later took part in a service of thanksgiving in the Arch Episcopal church.

In an interview, King George at that time said that Greece after the war probably would have the frontier to the Saloniki and Monastir and he was inclined to make Saloniki a free port of Janina. Crown Prince Constantine is still at Janina with the Greek army.

Queen Mother Alexandra, who is King George's sister, is prostrated with grief.

COLD DAMAGES FRUIT TREES

Agriculture Commissioner Makes Report of Findings—Peach Blossoms Suffer Most.

Austin, March 18.—Commissioner Ed R. Kone of the Texas department of agriculture gives out the following statement in regard to the recent freeze:

"One of my men examined fruit trees in Austin since the recent cold spell and found that 90 per cent of the peach blossoms in the city were killed by the low temperature.

"J. M. Ramsey, of the Ramsey Nursery company, situated in the northern part of Austin, informs me that his foreman reported all fruit trees in full bloom were killed by the cold.

"Uncle Dick Bonner of Smith county received several peach twigs from his home since the cold spell and upon examination found that about 50 per cent of the fruit was killed in his county.

"This is certainly more serious than I expected and the only chance now remaining is that the early peaches, which bloomed before the freeze and were protected to some extent by the shuck, and the later varieties of peaches that had not yet come out, will yield some fruit.

"Orchardists should by no means be discouraged by the recent mishap, but should stick to the industry and by thorough cultivation and extra care of the remaining fruit try to produce some fancy products; at the same time keeping all the trees in the orchard in a vigorous condition, so that they can fully repay in future years the loss that has occurred by the recent cold weather."

QUARREL LEADS TO SHOOTING.

Plans of Neighbors to Aid Farmer Results in Trouble.

Gonzales, Tex., March 18.—A quarrel over possession of a plow formerly owned by the late Will Hazerot, who was shot by the industry and by the remaining fruit try to produce some fancy products; at the same time keeping all the trees in the orchard in a vigorous condition, so that they can fully repay in future years the loss that has occurred by the recent cold weather."

The quarrel was unusual, lacking the usual causes of such affairs, because the plow was intended for use in aiding Frank Mangum, who was ill and whose neighbors had taken care of the plow and plan for him free of charge. Among these neighbors were the two who started the quarrel.

Monarch Dies in Carriage on Way to Hospital at Saloniki, Near Where Tragedy Occurs—Blood Flows From Wound.

ASSASSIN IS GREEK OF LOW TYPE

Won Great Popularity in Fifty-Year Rule—Increased Love of His People During Balkan War—Crown Prince Constantine Is to Assume Reign.

Saloniki, March 18.—King George of Greece was assassinated while walking on the streets of Saloniki this afternoon. The assassin was a Greek of low mental type, who gave his name as Aleko Schinas. He shot the king through the heart.

The king was accompanied only by an aide de camp, Lieutenant Francoudis. The assassin came suddenly at the king and fired one shot from a seven-chamber revolver. The tragedy caused intense excitement. The assassin was overpowered.

The wounded king was lifted into a carriage and taken to the Papafion hospital. He was still breathing when placed into the carriage.

Prince Nicholas, the king's third son, and other officers hurried to the hospital.

Arriving first, Prince Nicholas summoned the officers, and speaking in a voice choked with sobs said:

"It is my deep grief to have to announce to you the death of our beloved king, and I invite you to swear fidelity to our new sovereign, King Constantine."

Crown Prince Constantine, who succeeds King George, is at present at Janina. He is expected to come here with all possible haste.

The assassin of the king is an evil-looking fellow, about 40 years old. He refused to explain his motive for the crime. He declared his name was Aleko Schinas, and in reply to an officer who asked him whether he had no pity for his country, announced that he was against governments.

Schinas' mind is in a perfectly passive state. Extra precautions were taken throughout the city and perfect order is being maintained. Notwithstanding the rapidity with which the king received attention, he was dead within half an hour.

The king fell into the arms of his aide when shot. Two officers ran up upon hearing the firing. He was placed in a carriage and efforts were made to stop the bleeding, but he breathed his last on the way to the hospital nearby.

When Prince Nicholas bade the officers swear fidelity to Constantine they shouted: "Long Live the King!"

Prince Nicholas is the only member of the royal family in Saloniki. Mourning emblems are displayed everywhere. The Greek governor has issued a proclamation announcing that the oath of fealty to King Constantine has been taken.

SORROW IN DENMARK.

Places of Amusement Close and People Bow Heads.

Copenhagen, March 18.—The deepest sorrow is felt here over the death of King George of Greece, who was very popular throughout Denmark. For the past fifty years he has been accustomed to spend a six or eight

BEREAVEMENT FORETOLD.

Raphael's Prophetic Messenger, a forecast for each month has been printed in The Morning News regularly, has the following prophecy regarding the king of Greece: "The king of Greece has a contradictory year before him, for the sun is conjoined with Venus, benefiting trade and bringing popularity, but the moon makes several evil aspects, causing much annoyance. Indisposition of the queen and some danger of bereavement."

The Greeks, nevertheless, established an administration and the king hurriedly left Athens for Saloniki. He played host to King Ferdinand of Bulgaria and the crown prince of Serbia on their visits to the city. He realized his presence there was not without peril, for he was surrounded by malcontents—Turks who had lost one of their most cherished cities, and Servians and Bulgarians who envied the Greeks in their possession of the place.

The king during his reign, and particularly in the latter years, passed through many dangers, but always went about either alone or attended by only one or two aides. When he was struck down arrangements were being completed for his jubilee and it seemed that this celebration would occur in a period of national triumph.

Personal courage was the king's marked characteristic. On one occasion when an attempt was made to assassinate him while he was driving with Princess Marie he rose to his full height in the carriage and shielded his daughter with his body and furiously shook his cane at the two men who were firing at him at close range. The king's popularity, which had been waning owing to the disastrous results of the Greco-Turkish war, rose again at a bound to heights

Fired Upon By Sentry.

King George had another narrow escape from death—this time at the hands of one of his own sentries. As was his lifetime habit, he was walking one night along one of the quays at Piraeus when a sentry challenged him. Being unwilling to reveal his identity, the king turned abruptly and walked away. Without more ado the sentry fired. The bullet grazed the king's shoulder.

The next day the sentry was summoned to the palace, complimented on his attention to duty and presented with the Order of the Redeemer. Throughout the last few years Greece has passed through a period of unrest and national danger, particularly caused by the Cretan question, which threatened to involve the country in a struggle with Turkey. Since then the king, however, had used a moderating influence, and in 1910, by summoning a constitutional assembly finally rid himself of the influence of the military league.

Again, in accepting the advice of a service of Premier Venizelos, he placed the country in his debt, for it was this great statesman who straightened out Greece's domestic affairs and brought her into the Balkan alliance.

The king was active in foreign affairs. He was his own envoy and traveled much, pleading his cause for Greece in every court. Among other accomplishments, he was a gifted linguist.

In international affairs he took the greatest interest and continually visited public works and public institutions. He ruled his people with skill and tact and knew them thoroughly, and the nation loved him, although a heavy burden was placed on his shoulders.

REBELS ARE NEAR ON NUEVO LAREDO

FEDERAL TROOPS CONTINUE PREPARATIONS FOR ATTACK THERE.

AMERICAN SPREADS ALARM

Consul Garrett Reports Himself and Party Fired Upon—Conditions at Naco Intense.

Laredo, Texas, March 18.—The reported approach of a band of rebels spread excitement through Nuevo Laredo this afternoon and there was another rush for the international bridge by the few families remaining in that city who wished to cross to the American side for safety, but the excitement subsided when it was learned that the supposed rebels were cowboys driving a herd overland.

American Consul Garrett and a party in an automobile reported they had been fired upon, but later stated they might have been mistaken, or a stray shot from a cowboy's pistol caused their alarm.

The federal troops, however, continued preparations for an attack, barricaded themselves in the strong buildings and lined the roof of the Catholic church with sharpshooters.

It is believed that with the arrival of Gen. Truicy Aubert with 200 federal soldiers, another battle will be fought. The followers of Carranza have not abandoned their campaign. While the federalists do not expect an attack tonight, they are prepared for renewal of the fighting tomorrow.

BATTLE AT NACO EXPECTED.

State Troops Numbering 2,000 Close Down on Federalists.

Naco, Ariz., March 18.—Surrounded by nearly 2,000 state troops who are rapidly closing in against Naco, Sonora, General Ojeda today admitted he was in a serious predicament. Insistent on preventing a recurrence of the federal victory of last Saturday, Col. Juan Cabral is taking time and pains to hem the small federal garrison here, leaving an only exit over the international border to the north, where the troops of the Ninth and Fifth United States Cavalry await the expected border battle.

city wholly unsuspected by the working men with whom they rubbed elbows.

Had Many Close Friends.

During a former visit to the city the London corporation entertained him at the Guild Hall and presented him with an address of welcome. Of all the crowned heads of Europe, King George of Greece and his Danish brother, King Frederick, who was overthrown by a fatal illness while strolling in the streets of Hamburg alone, were the most unostentatious. He had many friends among the diplomats of the various nations and some of his warmest friendships were with unobtrusive persons.

King George had a particular fondness for a good dinner and a game of cards, and was known to all the foremost restaurants in the continental capitals and watering places. He was credited with being rather easy going in the matter of hard work.

At a meeting of Moslem and Turkish sympathizers here tonight the announcement of the assassination was greeted with cries of "shame," although there were some cheering because of the deep sympathy for the queen mother Alexandra in her bitter loss.

The Greek legation had received no official word of the death of the king up to a late hour tonight, but members of the peace delegation remaining in London and many other Greeks called to express their sympathy.

CONSTANTINE IS KING.

Ascends to Throne at Height of Popularity.

London, March 18.—Crown Prince Constantine comes to the throne of Greece at the very height of popularity, which he has won on the field of battle in Macedonia and which the capture of Janina raised to the highest pitch. It was not always thus. He suffered with other members of the royal family for the failure of the Greek army in the Turkish war of 1897, and when at the conclusion of that war he was raised to the throne, the post of commander-in-chief, and conferring it on Constantine, the bitterest opposition was aroused.

He continued to hold the post, however, until the revolution of the military league in 1909, when he was forced with the other princes to resign from the army. Allegations of cowardice during the Turkish war were made against him and it was even thought possible that when a short time afterwards on a visit to the European capitals, he would not return to Greece. But, like his father, whose abdication was often rumored, he returned in time to more than regain his popularity with the people. His repeated triumphs during the present war have aroused the wildest enthusiasm and only a few days ago it was announced that an equestrian statue would be erected in his honor in the capital.

Crown Prince Constantine recently took over the command of the army besieging Janina and captured the fortress.

The queen, who was Princess Sophia, sister of William, emperor of Germany, has become deeply attached to the country of her adoption and is extremely popular in Greece.

Cleveland Home Dedicated.

Caldwell, N. J., March 18.—The home of Grover Cleveland's birth, a frame house that for 118 years has served as a native was dedicated today as a permanent memorial to the former president.

In exchange for a check for $17,610, the First Presbyterian church placed a deed on the property in the hands of Thomas Rucker, representing the Grover Cleveland birth-place memorial association. Hundreds of visitors thronged Caldwell today to witness the ceremony.

A REASONABLE PLEA FOR THE STOMACH

If Your Stomach is Lacking in Digestive Power, Why Not Help the Stomach Do Its Work.

Not with drugs, but with a reinforcement of digestive agents, such as are naturally at work in the stomach. Scientific analysis shows that digestion requires pepsin, nitrogenous ferments, and the secretion of hydrochloric acid. When your food fails to digest, it is proof positive that some of these agents are lacking in your digestive apparatus.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets contain nothing but these natural elements necessary to digestion and when placed at work in the weak stomach and small intestines, supply what these organs need. They stimulate the gastric glands and gradually bring the digestive organs back to their normal condition.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets have been subjected to critical chemical analysis at home and abroad and are found to contain nothing but natural digestives.

Chemical Laboratory, Telegraphic address, "Diffindo." London. Telephone No. 11029 Central. 20 Cullum St., Fenchurch St., E. C.

I have analyzed most carefully a box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets (which I bought myself at a city chemist's shop for the purpose), manufactured by the F. A. Stuart Co., 86 Clirkenwell Road, London, E. C., and have to report that I cannot find any trace of vegetable or mineral poisons. Knowing the ingredients of the tablets, I am of the opinion that they are admirably adapted for the purpose for which they are intended.

(Signed) John R. Brooke, F. I. C., F. C. S.

There is no secret in the preparation of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. Their composition is commonly known among physicians. They are the most popular of all remedies for indigestion, dyspepsia, water brash, insomnia, loss of appetite, melancholia, constipation, dysentery and kindred diseases originating from improper dissolution and assimilation of foods, because they are thoroughly reliable and harmless to man or child.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are at once a safe and powerful remedy. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will digest your food for you when your stomach can't.

PROSPERITY BANQUET IS PLAN

Completion of Interurban to Waco May Call Forth Celebration—Matter Under Consideration.

The matter of celebrating the completion of the interurban to Waco by a big "prosperity" banquet, similar to the one held two years ago at the completion of the steel work of the Amicable building, is being discussed. The matter probably will take shape very soon. Plans already are being discussed and the matter will be put before President Strickland of the Southern Traction company on his next visit to Waco. In the meantime those who have the matter in hand are doing something of the nature of the celebration.

It is intended by those who are behind the movement to make the affair the equal if not larger than the 1911 "prosperity day."

Deaths and Burials

Mrs. Mattie Douglas West.

Mrs. Mattie Douglas West died at 3:10 a. m. yesterday at her home on Alexander avenue in North Waco. She has been a resident of Waco for twenty-one years. She was 43 years of age.

The funeral services were conducted from the residence at 3 p. m., being conducted by Rev. E. L. Crystal, assisted by Rev. Mason. Interment was made at Oakwood.

The following were the pallbearers: Active—R. V. Draughon, Byron Benson, N. B. Oakes, L. L. Bewley, N. O. Wortham and J. Gammon; honorary—R. L. Cartwright, Judge George N. Denton, John W. Baker, R. B. Bell, W. B. Morrison, J. E. Fee.

NAVAL STORES CO. CASE HAS AIRING

ATTORNEYS FOR DEFENDANT FIRM ARGUE SHERMAN LAW UNCONSTITUTIONAL.

HEARING BEFORE U. S. COURT

Supreme Justices Demand Many Explanations While Hearing Pleas of Lawyers Interested.

Washington, March 18.—Many explanations were demanded today by members of the supreme court of the United States when attorneys for officers of the American Naval Stores company, the so-called "turpentine trust," started to argue that the Sherman anti-trust law was unconstitutional as a criminal act. Samuel B. Adams of Savannah, Ga., representing the company, undertook to reply, but finally concluded this feature of his argument by referring the court to his printed brief.

The argument marked the final effort of the defendants to have set aside their conviction in the Georgia federal courts for violation of the Sherman anti-trust act. It was charged that they depressed the market for turpentine and resin to such an extent that producers were compelled to sell at ridiculously low prices.

Two of the naval stores company's officers, Spencer P. Shetter, chairman of the board of directors, and J. F. Cooper Myers, vice president, are the first men sentenced to imprisonment for violation of the statute to come before the supreme court. An attorney for officers of the so-called cash register trust, convicted recently, listened to the argument today.

Mr. Adams had hardly stated to the court that the tribunal had never passed upon the constitutionality of the law as a penal act when Chief Justice White suggested it had never "directly" passed upon the point, emphasizing the word "directly."

The attorney then explained that his position was that the Sherman law, in prohibiting "unreasonable" restraint of trade, had provided no criterion or standard by which acts might be measured, and so was too indefinite to be good as a criminal law. He contended this construction of the law made it impossible for a person to know whether he was violating the statute until a jury had exercised its whim as to whether the acts were "unreasonable."

"As I remember it, within a year or so we decided a case in which we held that 'reasonable' was a sufficiently definite standard," declared Justice Holmes.

Mr. Adams suggested he had distinguished that case from the one he was arguing.

"Do you have the crime of manslaughter in Georgia?" asked Chief Justice White. "Define it."

Mr. Adams hesitated. The chief justice thereupon recalled an incident that happened in New Orleans just after a period of military law where a man shot another who was reaching for his snuff box in his hip pocket. Now, the jury found that in that day it was reasonable to suppose that when a man reached to his hip pocket he meant to pull his pistol and so acquitted the accused on the ground of self-defense.

The jury declared the act was reasonable. "How do you distinguish that case from this?"

Mr. Adams suggested that the crime of murder was a matter of statute and contented himself with referring to his brief and begging an attack on the form of indictment.

Former Senator John C. Spooner for the accused and Assistant Attorney General Fowler for the government will address the court tomorrow.

SWITCHMEN VOTE TO STRIKE

Expression By Ballot Affects Nineteen Railroads Entering Chicago. Walkout Not Imminent.

Chicago, March 18.—Of 4643 switchmen and switch tenders on nineteen railroads entering Chicago, 4423 have voted to strike unless their employers meet the demands for time and a half for overtime and for Sundays and holidays. Only 200 voted against the proposed strike, and the remainder did not vote.

This result was announced tonight by A. F. Whitney, vice president of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen. Despite this overwhelming vote in favor of a strike, a walkout is not imminent. Whitney will go into conference with the general managers' committee of the railroads tomorrow afternoon. It is believed that should they fail to agree, mediation under the Erdman act will be sought.

It is now announced that the Easter tea at the Home will be poured through the late hours of Wednesday afternoon.

This will be without card, and all interested in the work of the Home, especially strangers who have not been out, are welcomed.

COUNCIL OF JEWISH WOMEN

TO HAVE REGULAR SESSION

Through Mrs. Emanuel Toomin, secretary, it is heard that the Waco section of the Council of Jewish Women is preparing for an open meeting on Tuesday.

Several prominent women of the City Federation have been invited to make remarks following the address of W. W. Naman upon the marital rights of the Texas women.

Also the City Federation members are invited guests. This will make the opening of the council quite a significant event.

MRS. S. R. SCOTT IS AT HOME

FOLLOWING VISIT TO WASHINGTON

Following her visit to Washington City, Mrs. S. R. Scott joined Judge Scott in a trip to Roswell New Mexico.

This returns her to her Franklin street cottage only with the present delightful experiences during her stay in Washington.

In addition to sight-seeing, she and the Judge received personal invitations to enjoy the Shuman Heink concert at the white house.

Notwithstanding this and other engagements there was time for attention to the Misses Ruth Hubby and Laurine Gay, who are among the Waco girls attending school in Washington.

MISS DECCA LAMAR WEST

TO BE BREWSTER FORWARD

The club women are initiating a move which shall place Miss Decca Lamar West before the women of this district as vice president of the club women of Texas.

This means that if elected, the headquarters for this district will be in Waco, and that Miss West will preside as well as occupy a place upon the executive board.

The pressure for this move has come from a number of towns elsewhere in the state. The Waco women are only doing the bidding, so to speak, of the district, in placing so well known and so talented a woman of Waco forward for this high office.

HUMANE APPEAL COMES TO WACO CITIZENS

From the great humane society of New York city the appeal has come to Waco that investigations be made concerning a firm in Paris, Texas, who is training monkeys for ball throwing.

The idea is to have the monkeys pelted and dodge the ball at side shows, and the prize award to the man who hits the monkey. This is torture, and the New York society is investigating.

Waco will send direct word to Paris, and the matter is closed and reported. But, the point here is that we must be on the alert that nothing of the kind reaches Waco; also that nothing of this nature is included in the Cotton Palace War Path.

MISS MAYDEE CAUFIELD

WILL REPRESENT WACO

In the coming festivities of San Antonio Waco will have no less an attractive representative than Miss Maydee Caufield.

The official invitation that Miss Caufield accept the honor from San Antonio came several days ago but the absence of Miss Caufield has delayed the announcement until she was consulted.

She has sent her acceptance and written that she will return from Washington and New York just in time to continue her visit to San Antonio. It is too early to announce who the maid, the knight and the champion will be. There is the bare prospect that Miss Caufield, the cousin whom Miss Caufield visits in Washington, may return with her, in which case she will join in the trip to San Antonio. Congratulations are now in order upon the homecoming of Miss Caufield. Every one will be pleased at the selection which has been made by San Antonio.

LIVINGSTONE CENTENARY

IS PROGRAM OBSERVED

One of the most interesting as well as pleasant afternoons enjoyed by the Women's Missionary society of the First Presbyterian church was that which paid homage to the centenary of that great man, Livingstone.

Mrs. H. C. Black, proverbial for her good readings as well as logical presentation of subjects, gave a sketch of Livingstone, and the events in his life.

There was also made prominent that the explorations of this man had done towards making possible the mission work in Central Africa, where one of the strongest strongholds of the Presbyterian church is located.

This mission is of peculiar importance in Waco in that the noble hand is headed by Rev. Martin of Marlin, our neighbor town, and that Julian Sleeper, grandson of the late Mrs. Patty Sleeper, joins so soon as his theological studies are finished. Tea was served after the more formal program. Several guests were present, among them Mrs. W. A. McClain, who is on a return visit to the home where she was such an active and capable worker in this society.

THE PASSION PLAY LECTURE

HAS PRECEDENCE THIS WEEK

A great deal of inquiry is being made concerning the stereopticon Passion Play lecture which Miss Kate Friend gives at the library on Thursday afternoon and evening.

The unique place which the great Passion Play has in the world's dramas, the peculiar conditions which have made it survive, and the fascination of the people who render it, make this an event of untold interest to the literary world. But, more, the religious significance teaches a deeper lesson than word or page can ever do.

And with the fervent sincerity with which the lesson is told through form and gesture, makes the young child receive what he can never get by hearing only the great drama of Christ's passion. The day is timely, that great time preceding the scene on Calvary. Miss Friend's pictures are all direct from Oberammergau. She has studied the subject, and will make a wonderfully interesting presentation.

The dramatic and the religious, to say nothing of the artistic, this Passion Play will be far more exact and comprehensive than any ever presented in Texas.

GOOD SUGGESTION COMES FROM A NEW SOURCE

The study of journalism is a departure in Baylor university life this year. The first copy of "The Baylor Times" comes, and it contains as one of the editorial paragraphs something well worthy the attention of every single woman in Waco.

It is an established fact that it is the women who can control the pure food situation. It is the women who buy. One case can readily be recalled of four of the most prominent families in the city being stricken with ptomaine poison from the same grocer.

In this case, was innocent of selling tainted meats. But in many instances deception is voluntarily practiced. The merchant will meet the demand. If the demand is for the best under the sanitary conditions, the merchant will see that the demand is met. If the customers are careless, so will be the dealer. Had that case of poison been inspected by the four housewives, perhaps one or all would have detected the taint, and thus saved suffering.

This all leads to the subject of this Baylor Times paragraph, which is: "Mrs. Club Woman (wonder if nobody eats but the club women—why not substitute Mrs. Lady of the Home?) why not vary your custom of ordering your supplies over the telephone by occasionally making a personal round of the grocery stores, bakeries, food factories and markets of your town to see whether they are kept in that condition of cleanliness the health of your family demands? Clean clothes and clean hands on the part of all who handle food, as well as sanitary precautions as regards floors, walls, counters, should be demanded. And who can so well enforce these demands as our housewives? The supplies for the family?"

Society Notes.

Mrs. Roberts, one of the recently arrived matrons to the city, has removed from the Kyle and is now in the cottage on Eleventh and Barron.

The students of the high school have full opportunity for the exercise in writing themes. W. E. Darden, the Mary West chapter and the Colonial Dames are all offering award for the best themes upon prescribed lines.

When you enter the street car always leave the door ajar so that the men passengers may expectorate.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Hook are leaving within the next few days for their new home, which will be in Houston.

Mrs. Agnes Taylor Mann, upon her return home from her visit to Vernon, will be mistress of her own cottage now building.

The Shakespeare club will have a social session on Monday afternoon. It is hoped that every member can find it convenient to be present.

In our travels this summer we must all take occasion to collect some of the quaint little knockers for our bed room doors as well as the more massive piece for our outer door.

These are a fancy and really a convenience to the maid and those who do not care to intrude into one's bed room unannounced.

The improvement of Mrs. Mordis Falkner is so rapid that the present week will find her equal to the trip to Mineral Wells. She will be accompanied by her mother, Mrs. J. C. Riley. The exact date for their going is not yet named.

Something unexpected in her sorority at the State university has deferred the expected visit home of Miss Anne Risher.

Among other encouragements given the work of reclaiming the Old Spring is the loan without interest and without stated time of Miss Mary McCall to the Henry Downs chapter. This shows that, although a resident of New York city for the past years, Miss McCall retains a real affection for the scenes of her childhood home.

It is indeed a convenient plan to keep a candle ready for lighting in every room of the home. No one knows what pranks the electric current will play.

Mrs. Robert Rogers of South Fifth has received the sad and altogether unexpected news of the death in Nashville of her sister, Mrs. Eastman. This is news of regret to many beyond the Rogers household, since Mrs. Eastman visited in this city several times.

The latest news, altogether cheering, from Mrs. Martha Jenkins March, man, is that she is dismissed from the sanitarium, in her own home, and improving daily.

Among the latest arrivals of note is that of Mrs. Otis Johnson from Athens, Ga. She is at present in the C. L. Johnson home, Eighteenth and Austin, but will divide her time with Miss Eva Harris.

The Passion Play lecture with fifty colored lantern views of the village, the people and the stage of this wonderful preservation from the ancient literature, is the event to attract many to the library on Thursday afternoon and evening.

Do have the yard made ready for the many summer months when it will be your home.

And, by the way, do take down the old ramshackle fence. Lay it away decently for the service it did when the town cow roamed. Then, give place to a new day has dawned, the day when Waco takes on city appearance. This she can never do with the broken down fence.

Now that the Easter tide is about here, do remember to send The Morning News all notices, especially of the clubs and other sessions, so that the daily calendar can be complete.

Have you taken the tour of inspection of your premises, front and back, in order to aid the clean-up crusade? Have you done your part towards keeping in abeyance the fever and the fly pest of the summer time?

If you place a picture on the wall, and it is eminently proper that you should, take the precaution to have it something good in design and appropriate in subject. The day of the chromo is past.

Do not sail by in a car with empty seats. Think what a pleasure you might share with others.

And that scolding old hen. What are you going to do with her?

Society Personals.

Mrs. Lily Lewine of Washington street, also Mr. and Mrs. Louis Hitt of North Fourteenth, are in Houston for the funeral of Mrs. May Pearstone Davidson.

Among the recent home comings is that of Mrs. A. L. Skinner of North Thirteenth, who has been in Fort Worth.

The Misses Dixon Holloway and Lilian Westbrook of Alta Vista are on a visit to Miss Emma Prendergast in Austin. They left on Monday.

Among today's departures will be that of Mrs. George Tyler, accompanied by Miss Letta Roberts, for her home in Tyler.

Mrs. Thomas Peyton Scott, who came from Dallas owing to the illness of her sister, Mrs. Falkner, is returned home.

Miss Hallie Jenkins and her sister, Mrs. Sara Jenkins Graves, of Valentine, reached home from Dallas on Tuesday.

Mrs. M. C. H. Park of South Fifth is at home from a few days with Mrs. Paul Montgomery in Belton.

After a few days in Temple and with Mrs. Paul Montgomery in Belton, Mrs. Lorraine Rogers of South Fifth is now due at home.

MANEY METERS NOW IN USE

There are 382 Water Consumers Now Using the Pay for What You Get Plan.

Many citizens have expressed themselves as in favor of the meter system for the city water works, as suggested in yesterday's Morning News by Commissioner P. A. Gorman.

There are at present in use in the city 382 meters, principally in the larger hotels, boarding houses, saloons, drug stores and other large consumers of water. S. J. Quay, superintendent of the waterworks, said yesterday that there has been considerable saving of water by the meters already installed.

The first meters were put in something over two years ago. Up to two years ago, however, there were only about 100 meters in use, these being for experimental purposes. Different meters were tried out and an effort was made to find whether or not the meter method was the best.

The experience of many cities in this section and in the north and east has been, after thorough tests, that this is undoubtedly the best and fairest method of charging for water consumption," Mr. Quay said.

The greatest saving that is noticed where the meters are in use, Mr. Quay said, was in the keeping up of the plumbing. With the flat rate system there are many who will allow a leak to run sometimes from the time of inspection by the city inspector until he comes again, which may be a matter of months. With a meter the consumer would pay for the waste and he would soon have the leak fixed.

W. H. Sanger, president of the committee arranging for the Sunday school convention, believes there will be 500 delegates in Waco when the big affair is held.

Mr. Sanger yesterday went to Mount Calm, Hubbard City and Dawson in the interest of the convention. He saw the Sunday school workers in each of the towns and is assured a good delegation from each. At Hubbard the promise is made by Superintendent Putnam that at least twenty-five and perhaps thirty of more will come.

Mr. Sanger "awoke" at a local hospital, where she was recovering from an abdominal operation performed

The London Post, commenting on the unfavorable impression Secretary Bryan's St. Patrick day banquet speech has made among anti-nationalists in the United Kingdom, concludes: "As on the prudence and sagacity with which the secretary of state discharges his task depend the relations of the United States with other countries, it behooves him to observe caution in his references to other nations." This is beginning the "breaks" early, but as Bryan is "Bryan," he will continue to whoop for home rule and we venture that the criticism of the London press will not cause him such a degree of perturbation as will result in the appearance of furrows in his physiognomical rotundity.

"Hereafter let us speak of the spring as 'she,'" smiles the Boston Transcript. "How else to account for this extreme mildness to make amends for extreme chilliness?" But may not the same reasoning be applied with the spring called "he"? For it is a mildness that turns lightly the fancy of young man to thoughts of love after a season of severity in thoughts of lucre.

CLEAN DAYS, DIRTY DAYS.

When it was first announced that the health board had designated certain days in May as clean-up days in the several parts of the city, and that a general clean-up had been ordered by the city for this month, the Morning News responded with enthusiasm. Its enthusiasm, however, was not so great that it contented itself with urging householders and business men to co-operate in making the movement a success, but it went to the extent of deprecating that condition in Waco emphasized by the fact that with a large number of citizens it was absolutely necessary to make some such official order before they would give the least heed to sanitary rules and the public health. To put the matter plainly, that city is in bad case where dwellers are content to wait until city health board or State health board or city commission orders them to clean their premises before conforming with the demands of cleanliness as a measure of public safety. To some the order will be absolutely meaningless; they are used to the dirt and neglect or even do not know how to remedy conditions, and it is impossible for the health authorities to reach every home. To others the order will be wholly unnecessary; they do not await official action before putting their own houses in order. They are instinctively and naturally clean. Those whom anything will suit, with whom anything will "do," who live along the line of least resistance, are those whom the health board must watch and against whom the rest of the citizenship must guard. In this instance the condition to be remedied is public indifference to private slovenliness.

The Beaumont Enterprise epitomizes this situation strikingly when, apropos the State health officer's address to the public in behalf of a general clean-up on March 24, it calls on its city to observe "every day in the year as a clean-up day." This is an argument the Morning News cannot too strongly commend to the householders and merchants of Waco. This is the only infallible prescription for a clean city.

In an address calling on local health officers, city and county authorities and women's clubs to observe March 24 as "clean-up" day, State Health Officer Steiner recalls that the "clean-up" day for 1912 proved a great success. "Many of the cities and towns observed, not only the day named, but, entering into the spirit of the movement, devoted two clean-up days to the laudable work of removing and destroying the accumulations of the winter preparatory to the coming of warmer weather." This encourages Dr. Steiner to ask: "Why not make 1913 a clean-up year?" In other words, why not keep cleaned-up all of the time? If every day in the year was observed as a clean-up day the job of getting in shape for the summer would not be so big. There would be fewer flies, fewer mosquitoes, fewer disease carrying insects of all kinds and the fight to protect public health would not be so one-sided.

The Austin Statesman, in referring to "the bum squad that operates in Waco," forgets that bumming is out of the question where business streets are busy streets all the year 'round, year in, year out—not busy merely for two months in alternate years when the State treasury is responsible for the business.

STREET ELECTRIC LIGHTING.

The most prosperous, the most talked-of street in the western hemisphere is Broadway, New York. And, to quote the Scientific American, "electric lighting made it so." Its millions of electric bulbs stand for business enterprise, wealth, prosperity.

Cleveland is another city that has demonstrated to its own satisfaction and to that of all clear-headed observers of the trend of modern city development that good street lighting means dollars and cents to a community. A few years ago the north side of Euclid avenue, between East Fifty-fifth and East Sixty-fifth streets, installed a block of ornamental street fixtures. The result was magical. That side of the street was crowded; the other side, deserted. Real estate values increased on the illuminated and decreased on the dark side. Not until both sides were equally well lighted was a commercial equilibrium established on that particular section of Euclid avenue. Similarly, Minnesota street, between Fourth and Seventh streets, in St. Paul, was transformed from a gloomy thoroughfare, flanked by dilapidated structures, into a prosperous street in which new buildings took the place of the old—a result accomplished entirely by street lighting.

Three hundred cities in the United States and Canada have tried ornamental street lighting, according to the Scientific American, and found that it pays as a municipal investment, as well as in heightened civic pride, in greater prestige, and therefore, in better citizenship.

Cities, like human beings, are judged by impressions. The fleeting glimpse of a town caught from the windows of a railway train that stops a few minutes at a station leaves an indelible impression upon the traveler. If he sees nothing but forbidding gloom, punctuated by an occasional flickering gas lamp, he inevitably sets down that community as a third rate municipality; if he catches a glimpse of a main street ablaze with light, he knows that here business thrives. Gloom means dirt, squalor, stagnation; light means activity, industry, life. From the lighting of a city its character can easily be deduced.

NATION'S BIGGEST BUSINESS.

The recommendation of several leaders in the Democratic party that the president make this "tariff session" of congress a session that will deal with the nation's biggest business is gaining daily in popular approval. The rank and file of the party, and certainly the leading newspapers supporting it, are concluding that there is no reason why the administration may not at once begin work toward the fulfillment of its pre-election program and the reform of the several most important phases of national control emphasized by Mr. Wilson in his inaugural. We see no reason why attention to the program should be delayed. The currency situation is clamoring for treatment quite as loudly as the tariff, and assuredly there is no advantage in delaying legislation on any of the other prominent matters outlined in the Baltimore platform.

It has been widely suggested that if the party will proceed at once to transact this most important business and thereby relieve the regular session of the necessity of dealing chiefly with the problems that have been presented to the country in the past six months as in need of immediate solution, "public confidence in the party will be greatly strengthened." We think the reasoning is strikingly sound. The great cry of the party is one of "performance" as opposed to the indeterminate, unfulfilled promises of its predecessor in power, and the opportunity for performance is at hand scarcely a month after the Democracy's assumption of control. We are assured that the president recognizes the value of this opportunity more fully than any utterance of his has indicated, and that the first assembling of a Democratic congress will be the signal for his presentation of those subjects on which the party has builded most strongly its claims to the direction of the government.

How does the postmaster general enjoy being enjoined?

THE RECALL AND ITS DANGERS.

Just how much truth there is in the report that the attempt to recall District Attorney Fredericks, who led in the prosecution of Attorney Clarence Darrow and the McNamara brothers, "has its source in the building trades council that represents some twenty thousand wage earners who do not approve of Mr. Fredericks' methods and zeal," we are not prepared to judge. The entire course of the McNamara and Darrow trials opened up a long avenue of comment and criticism with its most emphatic end in the relation of organized labor to the dynamiting troubles, and much of this criticism of labor policy and methods must be treated with a bucket of salt. But the fact is undisputed that an attempt is being made to recall the prosecutor for his lively part in a trial that was most unpopular with a great body of men, and this fact supplies an unusual illustration of the grave dangers that may attend the unrestricted incorporation of the recall in our scheme of government. In effect, if the recall were thus worked a premium would be placed on a public servant's performance of his plain duty in the fact of possible unpopularity and political defeat far beyond the drawbacks to conscientious performance of duty that are seriously present under an elective form of government. Especially would this be present in the relation of judges, of judicial decisions, to popular favor and the attitude of powerful organizations that can control a heavy vote.

The hostility to Mr. Fredericks must open the eyes of many to the impossibility of attempting to operate government by the string method. If a man has not proven beyond doubt his personal honesty and fearlessness he should never be elected or appointed to the bench or as a court officer. But we cannot put him in charge of our rights and dangle the handcuffs over him while he is in charge—not while the electorate is made up of bodies whose interests are so diverse and whose views on the administration of justice are palpably colored by the desire to subvert personal and allied interests—labor or capital.

The recall has more dangers than merits. More than thirty years ago Henry Grady, Georgia's gifted son, looked above the cycles of time and forecasted the unbounded prosperity that awaited the American people. He said: "When every farmer gathers bread from his own field and meat from his own pastures, when our cotton is made into cloth on the ground in which it is grown, then indeed will come the fullness of our time." In the movement now fostered by the Industrial Congress of Texas for more universal and abundant production of those things that go to make for the sustenance of all things animate, and promotes the happiness of every individual, it appears his forecast is fast coming our way.—Sulphur Springs Gazette.

Texas Viewpoints

Southern Sun.

Through the trees the sap is running. The grass is growing greener and the wild flowers are beginning to bloom. In the sky the sun is warm and in the air is the indescribable tang of spring. And as the sun reaches its meridian each spring-like day and we come back to the office from lunch, we get that sleepy feeling. It always goes with the spring, that drowsiness, wherever you are. It goes with it a little more down in the sunny Southern clime. If you have always lived in the north, you can think little about it. If you come from the harsher latitudes, you have it and understand something of the reason for the ancient siesta custom. The test of you as an energetic business man (the ladies are not included in this; let them take their naps if they can) is whether you give way to it or overcome it.—San Antonio Light.

But does such a "test" really come to anything in San Antonio, or in any other Southwest Texas town, for that matter? What does it avail to stifle the drowsiness and the desire to tilt back in chair, put feet on desk and forget it when, after hurrying through early afternoon scorch to that appointment or to get that story, after an Houston street stroller sandwich or a four-bit table de hotel that makes for somnolence, you find the reason for your self-sacrifice with his feet on his desk and his thoughts in Labrador? Summer, San Antonio, sleep—these are antonyms.

Quite So.

The prosperity of a town is not gauged by the wealth of its inhabitants, but by the uniformity with which they pull together when any important undertaking is to be accomplished. What about the furniture factory that can be located in our town by a little help of the town?—Aalto Herald.

In that highly moral play, "Get rich-quick Wallingford," two "con" men built a city out of Battlegburg by lightening a few tight bank accounts at the outset and fattening them at the finish. Even two "con" men can do it. The chief difficulty in the way of those who are trying to make man's clothes for a community that has grown out of its knickerbockers more rapidly than was anticipated is this same spirit—"It was good enough for father and it's good enough for me." In spite of attempts to prove the contrary, it is possible for individuals to prosper even in a town that stands still. Unusual, but possible. Factories, hotels, department stores will not multiply if the business men's deposits merely are switched from one to the other periodically by corner lot deals. In addition to "holding as a speculation" it is necessary to attract the investment, or what will the deal amount to? The wealth of inhabitants assures the prosperity of a town only as it is utilized to attract the essentials of prosperity. In Texas's ambitious towns the factory bonus and the hotel subscription and the grant of property to public institutions are more necessary than the police force, as indispensable as the fire department and a justification of a street car line.

Public Sentiment.
Mr. Will C. Hogg is credited with having an ambition to bring about a merger of the A. & M. College with the University of Texas, move the A. & M. to Austin, combining it with the University, and using the college building and plant for an asylum. If he possesses such a notion he had as well forget it. The people of Texas will never stand for such program. The A. & M. is as dear to the people as the university is, and is credited with doing much more useful educational work, for that matter, and is going to be maintained and built up right where it is.—Hillsboro Dispatch.

It is a fact that Mr. Hogg's, or another's, plan to merge these two institutions is not meeting with popular favor, although it has not been without editorial endorsement by some newspapers north of Austin. There is a well-defined sentiment that the State can best order the conduct of the A. & M. college—rather, it can best provide for agricultural and mechanical training—as a distinct, separate institution. Consensus of opinion favors the complete divorce of the two big schools, quite the antithesis of the argument advanced in support of the merger. And it may confidently be expected that legislative sentiment will govern in the legislative disposition of this question, sooner or later.

For Texas Industry.
More than thirty years ago Henry Grady, Georgia's gifted son, looked above the cycles of time and forecasted the unbounded prosperity that awaited the American people. He said: "When every farmer gathers bread from his own field and meat from his own pastures, when our cotton is made into cloth on the ground in which it is grown, then indeed will come the fullness of our time." In the movement now fostered by the Industrial Congress of Texas for more universal and abundant production of those things that go to make for the sustenance of all things animate, and promotes the happiness of every individual, it appears his forecast is fast coming our way.—Sulphur Springs Gazette.

"When our cotton is made into cloth on the ground in which it is grown." The State has not taken as kindly as could be desired to the proposition to exempt such factories from taxation for a term of years, apropos the legislature's consideration of this means of encouraging Texas manufacture. The time is at hand when the State must give quite as much thought to the need of industrial development as to the blessing of diversified farming and progressive methods of stock raising.

The "Superior."

Man's distaste for wearing shirts his wife makes is quite keen—
He much prefers the sort he buys, with stripes of red and green.

Whose Fault?

(State Press, Dallas News.)
Albany News: Women generally have their way in the long run, but it is a pity there should be such traffic and loss of energy and dignity and womanhood in gaining the thing sought for. The spectacle of women "hiking" over the country on suffrage escapades and exposing themselves to mob violence in the streets of the nation's capital is not a pleasing one, and the conditions which produce such state of affairs should be changed.

Whose fault is it that the women who are striving for the right to vote a right men strove for and won hundreds of years ago—whose fault is it that the women who are striving to exercise their god-given intelligence at the ballot box, where men have so long exercised their intelligence—whose fault is it that these women must lose a modicum of the dignity, or occasion, that is so becoming to them? To gain the suffrage men have lost their lives, have heaped up their treasure upon the altar of their convictions, and meted out the earth with their blood. Why, then, shall we blame women for the somewhat blarney methods some of them have employed in the task of attracting attention and securing recruits to their cause? It is commonly urged that women have no real use for the ballot because the men will see to their political and social protection. The same argument would be used by the kings, who contended that the people had no need of a voice in their own government, because the kings were taking care of them. The analogy holds good. It is impregnable. There is every argument for woman suffrage today that applied to man suffrage two hundred years ago, and more—the women today are very much better educated than were the men of two hundred years ago. Indeed, probably the women of today are as a class better educated than the men of today. And if education should count anywhere it should count at the ballot box.

The Anonymous Letter.

(Dallas Times-Herald.)
Commenting on a recent editorial in the Times-Herald calling attention to the fact that anonymous communications must be ignored, the Waco Morning News discusses the subject further:

"Even when the name is signed to a communication with the request not to publish the name, the letter to the public cannot have its full value. A short time ago the Morning News had occasion to use such a communication on a topic of live interest. The name was withheld by request, and three reputable citizens expressed the opinion that this newspaper devoted from its rule not to publish anonymous communications by reason of its desire to reinforce its own position in the premises. The signed letter was shown them. It is difficult to understand why any person able to write an interesting and useful letter on a matter of public concern should object to the authorship being known. The signature gives weight and responsibility to the subject in hand and encourages the writer to do his best. The publication medium from the suspicion of 'merely boosting its own game.'"

All newspapers are held responsible for their own opinions, otherwise they would be a mere medium for the individual who sends a communication to a newspaper and fails to sign his name loses all the force of his argument. He is striking in the dark. It is not fair play and the public so regards it. There are many people, too, who want newspapers to do what they are afraid to do themselves. The word "afraid" is used advisedly. "Is nothing more nor less than cowardice, although some of our anonymous friends put it differently, saying that 'they would encourage us to do what they are afraid to do.' If the man who starts to write an anonymous letter would stop to think a minute and realize that he is about to do something he is ashamed of, he will put his pen away and keep his mouth shut. If you cannot speak but in meeting, keep quiet, is a good motto for all.

HER PROTEST.

Upon her hand so small and white
He very gently laid his own.
She drew it back as if in fright,
And whispered in a trembling tone
"You mustn't."
He sat a little nearer still.
Whereat she moved her chair away,
He seized down her eyes uniting
He heard her rather feebly say:
"You mustn't!"
He bent above her where she sat
And softly stroked her silken hair;
She said in a low, sweet tone
She could but faintly still declare:
"You mustn't!"

Around her waist he slipped an arm
And drew her closely to his side;
She seemed possessed of wild alarm,
And in imploring accents cried:
"You mustn't!"

Deciding to possess the bliss
That Fate had put within his reach
He claimed a sweet and fervent kiss,
But did she then in horror scream:
"You mustn't!"
She didn't.

Leaves Wilson a Problem.

(Kansas City Journal.)
The revision of the tariff is probably the greatest problem to which the new president must devote himself, although the Mexican question may become so serious as to take precedence of everything else. Mr. Taft will leave this matter in the best condition possible. He has provided the machinery with which Mr. Wilson can act promptly, if he sees fit. It is not improbable, however, that the Mexican troubles will have simmered down considerably by March 4, and that Wilson will see no more necessity than Taft for interference in the affairs of that republic.

Y.M.B.L. PUBLICITY PLANS COMPLETE

MEMBERS TO START FUND RAISING CAMPAIGN ON APRIL 8.

NEW COMMITTEES ANNOUNCED

Arrangements Made to Attend Get-Together Banquet at McGregor Friday Night.

The publicity campaign will be formally launched by the Young Men's Business League Tuesday, April 8. This was decided at a meeting last night. President Frank Trau, Secretary Hagedorn and the members of the publicity committee will, in the meantime, complete all details and the teams and captains will be ready to commence work on the stated time. Twenty thousand dollars will be raised for the purpose of advertising Waco. A noon luncheon will be served each day during the campaign, at which time the captains and workers will meet, make reports and plan for each day's duties.

The value of a publicity fund was demonstrated by what Houston recently has accomplished. Two ads carried in a well known magazine, written by an expert in this line, brought to Houston twenty-five factories. The cost of the two ads was $7500. It is known that these factories were secured as a direct result of this advertising.

The new directors of the Y. M. B. L. started off well at their first meeting. Every member was present with the exception of W. W. Woodson, who was out of the city.

The first business to be taken up by the directors was the re-election of H. Hagedorn Jr. as secretary of the league. He was re-elected without any change of terms.

The appointment of committees by the directors was ratified by the directors. The following committees were appointed:

Membership committee—J. M. Clements, Perry Duncan, William Edmonds. Convention committee—W. W. Woodson, John B. Fisher, A. D. Adams. Parks, amusements—Ray E. Lane, Joe G. Wren, L. A. Brooks. Civic improvement—W. H. Hoffmann, Mitchell Nash, T. A. Caulfield. Glad hand and publicity—Louis Hart, S. B. Price, Frank J. Battle. Locating agencies—Crate Dalton, C. C. Shumway, O. M. Weatherly. Agricultural and immigration committee—Harry Scherer, J. A. Pipkin Jr., Jack Wright.

Railroad and interurban—J. C. Dilard, Asher Sanger, Dr. R. McNamara. Publicity committee—W. J. Mitchell, C. B. McCollum, W. V. Crawford. Good roads committee—J. Walter Coontz, Frank T. West, Dr. H. B. Styles.

Finance committee—S. M. McAshan, Rush Berry, Ford Benham. Hotel accommodation—Joe Sanger, W. W. Woodson, John F. Wright.

Home industry and factory—Clarence Cox, Davis Stribbling, T. W. Robertson.

The committee appointed at the last meeting to take up the matter of an arch or other memorial to be erected at the entrance to Cameron park reported that they had consulted with the park board. The following statement from W. D. Lacy, the chairman of the board, was read:

"The plans that have been drawn up, being an arch, do not meet the approval of the commissioners for reasons shown in their letter to me, consequently other plans must be drawn and something other than an arch must be built."

"The proposition as it stands is this: The committee from the Y. M. B. L. has to figure on something that the people want; second, the committee has to figure on something that will get the money, for $10,000 is no small amount of money. But let me say that the park commissioners have done a great work in what they have done at the park, and they have some idea of the future which we know nothing of, and they must make their plans accordingly. The proposition is still alive, however, and it will take time to work out the details. It will be my pleasure to keep you advised."

A letter to Mr. Lacy was also read, which was signed by the park board. It follows:

"In compliance with your request for a written explanation of our objections to the plans heretofore submitted for a memorial proposed to be erected at the main entrance to Cameron park, we beg to state, first, that we are heartily in favor of the movement and sincerely appreciate the efforts being made by the Young Men's Business League through your committee, and we earnestly desire to assist you in any way possible. Naturally, however, being charged with the proper development of the park, we are duty bound to first consider the appropriateness and effect of any construction placed therein.

"Without claiming any particular artistic accomplishments, we believe that our close study of the present and future of the park justify us in consulting our own views and, perhaps, qualify us to judge better than casual observers who, in admiration of a plan on paper, might overlook the fitness of the proposed intended."

"Accordingly, it is our belief that a structure such as proposed, or perhaps any arch constructed at the main entrance of the park would greatly detract from the present natural beauty of the landscape, and for that reason, particularly, we did not favor the structure proposed, but suggested others which, in our opinion, would be more in accord with the surroundings and generally more appropriate for the purpose intended."

"Again assuring you of our readiness at all times to co-operate to the fullest extent with your committee in your most praiseworthy undertaking, we beg to remain, etc."

A communication was read from the McGregor Booster club requesting that the Y. M. B. L. of Waco send a delegation to attend the annual banquet and get-together meeting, and also to supply a speaker for the occasion.

The invitation was unanimously accepted and practically the entire directorate will go to McGregor Friday night. Crate Dalton was selected as the speaker. His subject will be "The Aim and Object of a Commercial Organization."

gation." The party will leave Waco in automobiles about 5 p. m. Peers and Houghton requested an endorsement from the league. They desire to start a box factory in Waco, and have the State Bryan as a guest. They are asking for endorsement. The matter was placed in the hands of Frank Trau, John Wright and Geo. S. McGhee.

It was decided to conduct four trade excursions in May and June. The matter of sending an exhibit to the land show in Chicago was turned over to the agricultural committee.

An official button was adopted by the league and will be placed on sale for members soon.

DEADLOCK UNBROKEN.

Bryan Visits Legislative Chambers as Citizen Only.

Springfield, Ill., March 18.—The long deadlock over the United States senatorship was unbroke tonight. Secretary of State Bryan was called out of the legislative body today and witnessed the voting on the eleventh joint ballot for the long term.

It was expected by some of the political leaders that Mr. Bryan's presence would have some influence in breaking the deadlock. The secretary, however, in a speech to the legislators, preceding the balloting, declared he had no "secret message" to deliver from President Wilson and that he was present simply as a private citizen.

James Hamilton Lewis, democratic primary nominee, lost eight of his party votes on the eleventh ballot. His total was 55, whereas on Thursday it was 91, a net loss of six. Two progressives voted for him today.

With four of his party absent, the vote of Lawrence Sherman, anti-republican primary nominee, was kept within one of the full party strength in the assembly, the vote of three progressives.

U. S. DISAGREES TO LOAN

bankers to undertake the loan might conceivably go to the length in some unpropitious contingency to force interference in the financial and political affairs of that great state of the Orient, just now awakening to a consciousness of its power and of its obligations to its people. The conditions include not only the pledging of a loan that secured the administration but also the administration of those taxes by foreign agents. The responsibility on the part of our government implied in the encouragement of a loan that secured and administered in plain English and is obnoxious to the principles upon which the government of our people rests.

"The government of the United States is not only willing but earnestly desirous of aiding the great Chinese people in every way that is consistent with their untrammeled development and its own immemorial principles. The awakening of the people of China to a consciousness of their possibilities under free government is the most significant event of the most momentous event of our generation. With this movement and aspiration the American people are in profound sympathy. They certainly wish to participate, and participate very generously in opening to the Chinese and to the use of the world the almost untouched and perhaps unrivaled resources of China."

"The government of the United States is earnestly desirous of promoting the most extended and intimate trade relations between this country and the Chinese republic. The present administration will aid and support the measures necessary to give American merchants, manufacturers, contractors and engineers the banking and other financial facilities which they need, and without which they are at a serious disadvantage, as compared with their industrial and commercial rivals. This is its duty. This is the main material interest of its citizens in the development of China."

"Our interests are those of the open door, a door of friendship and mutual advantage. This is the only door we care to enter."

MEDICAL EXAMINERS ELECT

Recently Elected Members of State Board Assume Duties Surrendered in Their Charge.

The recently elected state board of medical examiners met yesterday in the Business Men's club rooms. The old board turned matters over to the incoming board at the morning session.

The following officers were elected: President, J. H. Evans, Palestine; vice president, J. F. Bailey, Waco; secretary, J. H. Evans, Palestine; treasurer, W. L. Crosthwaite, Waco.

The board will meet in Austin the last Tuesday of June. The committee created yesterday were: Executive and reciprocity, M. E. Daniel, Honey Grove; M. E. Morrow, Austin; W. L. Crosthwaite, Waco; College committee, J. J. Crowe, Dallas; Paul M. Peck, San Antonio; Dr. Johnson and W. L. Crosthwaite, Waco. Auditing committee, G. L. Baber, Winnebago; J. J. Crowe, Dallas; Paul M. Peck, San Antonio.

IS KICKED ON HEAD BY MULE TIME TO PAY YOUR DOG TAX

Dan Bedford injured and at Late Hour Was Yet Unconscious From Hurt.

Dan Bedford, a driver for J. R. Torrence, a contractor, was kicked by a mule yesterday evening at 5 o'clock and rendered unconscious, two ribs also being broken.

Bedford, who is 17 or 18 years of age, was driving a two-mule team to a plow, between Thirteenth and Fourteenth streets on Speight, in the new addition which is being opened by W. W. Seley. While stooping to recover one of the lines which he had dropped he was kicked on the head and on the right side of the chest by one of the mules. He was rendered unconscious and remained so until a late hour last night.

W. W. Seley, who was present, took the young man home in his automobile. Bedford lives at Fifteenth and Wood streets.

Several doctors were called and stated that the young man would recover.

U. S. STEEL CO. REPORTS.

Total Earnings for Year $117,926,402. Show Decrease.

New York, March 18.—A noteworthy feature of the eleventh annual report of the United States steel corporation, covering the operations for the year 1912 and issued today, is the change in the corporation's system of bookkeeping.

The total earnings are given as $117,926,402, this being "exclusive of charges for interest on bonds and mortgages of subsidiary companies." In previous years total earnings were stated after this deduction was made and compare with this year's balance of earnings, which are given as $108,174,675.

Net income for 1912 was $17,675,217, a decrease of $1,250,222 from the year 1911.

CLOGGED NOSTRILS OPEN AT ONCE, HEAD COLDS AND CATARRH VANISH

In One Minute Your Stuffy Nose and Head Clears, Sneezing and Nose Running Cease! Dull Headache Goes.

Try "Ely's Cream Balm." Get a small bottle anyway, just to try it. Apply a little in the nostrils and instantly your clogged head will open; you will breathe freely; dullness and headache disappear. By morning! the catarrh, cold-in-head or catarrhal sore throat will be gone. End such misery now! Get the small bottle of "Ely's Cream Balm" at any drug store. This sweet, fragrant balm dissolves by the heat of the nostrils; penetrates and heals the inflamed, swollen membrane which lines the nose, head and throat; clears the air passages; stops nasty discharges and a feeling of cleansing, soothing relief comes immediately.

Don't lay awake tonight struggling for breath, with head stuffed; nostrils closed, hawking and blowing. Catarrh or a cold, with running nose, foul mucous dripping into the throat, and raw dryness is distressing but truly needless.

Put your faith—just once—in "Ely's Cream Balm" and your cold or catarrh will surely disappear.

LACK OF AIR HEALTH ENEMY.

Paris, March 18.—"Certain morbidness among women and girls which rests so heavily on modern life," is due to lack of air and sunshine, according to Professor Manjon of Nice, chief speaker at today's session of the Physical Educational congress.

"Sun bathing, air bathing and frequent physical exercise in loose garments are indispensable to good health and good temper in women," declared the lecturer. He urged that girl pupils in high schools ought to be taught elements of knowledge fitting them for motherhood.

EIGHT CLUBS TO COMPRISE CITY BASEBALL LEAGUE

Waco will have a city baseball league with eight clubs this season. The clubs will be the Y. M. C. A., Edelweiss Park, Sanger Brothers, Lumbermen, Glaze-Lane company, Waco Sash and Door company, North Waco, Texas Cotton Palace.

This was the decision reached at a meeting last night, called to order by President W. A. Holt at his store on Fourth street. The new league does not include the North End Fire station, of which Manager Kessler had charge six years ago when the first city league was organized. He was present at the meeting and said business reasons would prevent the team from playing this season. His announcement was received with much regret, as he was the only manager who piloted a team in the original city league.

Applications were received and approved from the Texas Cotton Palace, represented by Manager Gunter, North Waco, Manager Carroll; Waco Sash and Door company, Manager Gilbert; Lumbermen, Manager Machen; Glaze-Lane, Manager Bonner.

At 8 o'clock Friday night a meeting will be held at the same place to elect officers and name a schedule committee. At that time each of the fifteen players allowed each team, including the manager. The rules governing the league make it mandatory that no player can play with a team he did not originally belong to at the opening of the season.

The schedule will be arranged to open the season at the close of the twelve games played by the Waco club that opens the season here with Dallas April 10. Two games will be played a week, and the Cotton Palace park will be used.

The prospects are bright for the greatest year shape the organization of city baseball. There is excellent talent available for all the teams and many followers of the diamond sport are anxious for a place with some of the teams.

KIDS TO HUNT EASTER EGGS

Ladies of Ross Avenue Baptist Church Prepare Big Time for the Children.

Rabbits are going to lay eggs in Cotton Palace park next Saturday morning. The ladies of the Aid society of the Ross Avenue Baptist church have arranged with President W. H. Hoffmann of the Texas Cotton Palace to use the grounds. They expect to turn several hundred egg-laying rabbits into the park Saturday morning, so as to be ready for a great Easter egg hunt Saturday afternoon. There will be blue eggs, yellow eggs, red eggs, eggs of all colors, and the kids who come to hunt will have every chance to find them. Little fellows and bigger fellows will compete for a lot of prizes. It will be a big affair. The hunt will start at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

The following prizes will be given to those who are the most successful: Umbrella, cuff buttons, gold watch, book, tie, flags and candy, mesh bag, little girl's poke bonnet, diamond cuff buttons, roller skates, stick pin, toilet water, boy's knife, beauty pins, ball and bat, Johnson's candy, Huyler's candy, three pounds of dates, six tablets, two boxes of candy, 2-pound can of coffee, 3-pound box of candy.

PARENTS WRITE TO MAYOR HERE TO LOCATE BOY

If Harold Scott Gravatt's parents could find the 15-year-old boy and have him return, a vacancy in their San Diego, Cal., home would be filled and the gloom which has pervaded the place for more than two years would be dispelled. This, in substance, was conveyed in a letter received by Mayor J. H. Mackey, accompanied by a photograph of the boy, yesterday.

When the boy left home, his parents were living in Decatur, Ala. He left there May 3, 1911, and was last heard from in Uniontown, Pa. in October of 1911.

The parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Gravatt, now living at 3629 Arnold street, San Diego, Cal., sign the letter to Mayor Mackey together, urging that if he hears of the boy he communicate with them, "so we can learn of his whereabouts and help him all we can."

Continuing, the letter says: "We are much concerned about him. His absence grieves us all and we miss him so much. If you will kindly use this picture and description and use your efforts to locate him in your city, in mills, in factories or anywhere a home, less boy might be, we will be very grateful."

The description contained in the letter is as follows:

"Harold Scott Gravatt, age 15, slight build, fine features, blue eyes, brown hair, small boned, chest not deep, but would left side of waist on left foot back of joint of small second toe."

The picture enclosed shows the clean-cut features of a boy probably 13 years of age, with a frank, open expression of countenance.

BROWNS PLAY HERE THURSDAY

Stovall Will Give Wacoans Another Game Before Starting on Northern Trip.

The St. Louis Browns will give Carson's Navigators a chance to get even in the series of exhibition games on Thursday, when the two teams play the last practice game before the Browns depart on their northern trip Friday night. Games will be played with Dallas and Fort Worth Saturday and Sunday, Denison and Sherman Tuesday and from these points the two teams will go through Texarkana and Little Rock to St. Louis for the series of seven games with the Cardinals.

While the veteran Browns were playing the Waco club yesterday, the recruits were hard at practice at Cotton Palace park under the instructions of Coach Lou Criger. The Browns will divide about the same way today and play a practice game, finishing in time to attend the contest with the Giants.

FOR MISSION WORK

THOSE WHO ARE PREPARING ARE TO HOLD CONVENTION IN WACO.

Young Men and Young Women Will Meet in Waco Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

A convention of young men and young women who already have volunteered their services to their respective denominations for work in the mission field, will be held in Waco Friday, Saturday and Sunday, and 100 delegates, coming from all over the state, are expected to be in attendance. An organization will be perfected.

The delegates will, for the most part, be students in the various colleges of the state who are preparing themselves for work as missionaries. The sessions of the convention Friday and Saturday are to be in the rooms of the Young Men's Christian Association and Sunday afternoon at the First Baptist church. It is understood that the ladies of the various local churches are planning a reception to be tendered the delegates, the time and place, however, not having been definitely fixed.

Rev. C. T. Caldwell, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, has invited Dr. J. S. Kendall, who by length of service is dean of the local preaching force of Waco, to deliver the address of welcome on Friday night at the convention. It is probable that the work of perfecting a permanent organization will follow this address.

The delegates to be here are members of the Methodist, Baptist, Christian and Presbyterian denominations, but it is said that the volunteers will include the members of any other Protestant churches on their rolls.

Just how the young people began a movement for this convention is known to few. Correspondence, however, among those being prepared for mission service in the various colleges sprang up and culminated in an organized movement to "get together" and discuss methods and courses of instruction and all other matters pertaining to work as a missionary. While it is known that a number of prominent speakers will address the convention, the program for the sessions have not yet been made public.

TO ASK JIM HORNE TO CLEAR STREET OF FIRE DEBRIS

Before the city commission takes drastic action with reference to the removal of the debris from Austin street at the corner of Sixth where several buildings were destroyed during the recent fire, Commissioner Littlefield was yesterday authorized to see James E. Horne, explain the situation to him, and endeavor to secure his consent to an immediate removal of the trash.

Mr. Gorman brought the matter before the commission yesterday, calling attention to the fact that Mr. Horne had not cleared the street in front of his premises, in spite of the fact that the city commission had passed a resolution instructing the property owners to do this work a day or two after the fire.

Following some discussion, Mayor J. H. Mackey suggested that unless some relief could be secured the city might employ men to remove the trash, throwing it back into the ruins of the building and thus clearing the street, charging this to Mr. Horne.

Commissioner Wright asked what could be done if Mr. Horne endeavored to put a stop to the work. The mayor said he did not think that he could stop it. He said that while Mr. Horne had not paid any attention to the resolution passed by the commission, the owners of the other buildings were busy at work setting their premises in order. He felt that the citizens were entitled to the use of this street, the more so in view of the fact that the building opposite is also being repaired by Mr. Hubby and the sidewalk at that point may soon be blocked. There will then be only space enough left for the passage of the street cars.

Mr. Gorman said the commission did not wish to take any radical action in the matter if it could be avoided.

Mr. Littlefield suggested that some member of the commission call on Mr. Horne, explain the situation and ask that he remove the debris at once. He said he was sure he would comply with the ruling of the commission and he thought the matter might be amicably settled in this way.

It was then agreed that Mr. Littlefield should take the matter up with Mr. Horne and report back at the next session of the body on Friday morning.

Skin Peeling Nature's Aid to New Complexion

(From Women's Tribune.)
Mercedized skin is a natural beautifier. By flaking off the devitalized surface skin, it merely hastens Nature's work. The second skin layer, brought gradually to view, exhibits the healthy, youthful color produced by the circulation of blood. MARSHALL QUILTS BUT THE CITY WON'T HEAR TO IT

Presentation of the resignation of E. W. Marshall from the board of equalization by Mayor J. H. Mackey to the city commission yesterday morning brought out protests from every member of the board and resulted in the passage of a resolution requesting Mr. Marshall to continue his patriotic service on this board until the installation of the Sumers system of tax equalization here has been completed.

In tendering his resignation from the board Mr. Marshall stated that press of his business affairs would prevent him from attending any further meetings of the board and asking that the city commission elect his successor.

Mr. Hubby, also a member of the board of equalization, was before the commission. He stated that to lose Mr. Marshall at this stage of the work would be to seriously cripple the installation of the system. He asked that the commission use its good offices to induce Mr. Marshall to continue on the board, as he thought that the new tax equalization system would be complete within the next ten days or two weeks.

On motion of Mr. Gorman the city secretary was instructed to communicate with Mr. Marshall asking that he continue as a member of the board since it had been brought to the attention of the commission that for him to resign now would mean the hampering of the work. The commission also wished it stated that its members realized that a continuation in the office would be only at a sacrifice and as a patriotic duty.

B'NAI B'RITH MEMBERS TO MEET

President Wilson and Cabinet Men to Make Addresses—Convention Opens March 30.

Washington, March 18.—Elaborate arrangements have been made for the convention of the Independent Order of B'Nai B'Rith beginning March 30, the program of which was completed today. President Wilson will receive the delegates, who will come from Maryland, Virginia, North and South Carolina, Georgia and the District of Columbia, at the white house on Monday, March 31, and at least three cabinet officers have promised to address them at their banquet on that evening.

The cabinet members thus far pledged are Secretary Bryan, Secretary Redfield and Secretary Wilson.

A number of important matters are to come before the convention. Chief among them is the proposal to pension widows with dependent children. Julius Rosenwald of Chicago has proposed that each child in the Atlanta, Ga., orphan's home whose mother can be found, be returned to its mother and that she be given a pension sufficient to maintain it. The convention, it is understood, will seek some means of carrying such a reform into the hands of Jewish orphanages, through the medium of the organization's grand lodge.

WILSON RETURNS GIFTS.

Razor Strop Mounted in Gold Finds Way to Donor.

Washington, March 18.—President Wilson does not intend to accept gifts of value. He received today a razor strop mounted in gold, but sent it back to the donor with a letter of refusal. The strop came to the president because of his remarks on the value of a strop as a barometer.

Numerous other gifts have been returned within the past few days. Mr. Wilson does not believe the president of the United States should accept special favors from any one.

Clean Up Day in Waco Health Officers Active

Every Citizen Is Urged to Destroy Breeding Places of Flies—School Children Carry Home the Cards of Instruction.

This is "Clean-Up Day" in Waco and the co-operation of every individual in Waco is urged in the work of making Waco free from filth and disease.

In his address at the Henry banquet a few nights ago on the subject of "Public Health," Dr. Marvin L. Graves said:

"It is incredible that the personal right to stable your horse in your own back yard has never even been questioned, while the fly factory maintained thereby brought disease and death to one's fellow citizens for blocks around. Many of us will remember with what difficulty the odor-saturated pig-pen has been banished from our cities."

But the right to do this still remains in Waco, and your nearest neighbor may be a pig or a cow, and the lack of cleanliness will jeopardize all the people nearby, but until there can be evidence to prove absolutely that people are in danger, Mr. Pig and Mrs. Cow still remain.

Mr. E. Coonin, city health officer, asks that every person notify the sanitary inspector, phone 196, of a nuisance in the neighborhood, and if it is possible to have the nuisance abated the officer will do so.

Every child going home from school yesterday afternoon carried a "Clean-up card" to the folks at home, reminding them what to do. Some of the things suggested are as follows:

Flies are disease carriers.
Live and breed in all kinds of filth.
Infect food and drink by germs-laden feet.

Each female fly can lay 150 eggs.
Flies breed in horse manure, cow dung, decaying vegetables, garbage of all description, dead animals and human excrement.

The presence of flies is a direct evidence of careless housekeeping and the existence of filth in some form about the premises.

Look daily after the garbage cans.

The Theatres

Concerning David Bispham.
Mrs. W. H. Kendall of this city phoned H. J. Spanell yesterday, saying David Bispham's concert in Hay View, Mich., and York, Neb., attracted enormous audiences, averaging between two and three thousand people.

In Lincoln, Neb., over five thousand people attended his song recital. His voice was declared by critics to be as fresh as when he last appeared there, over ten years ago. All over the country, Bispham is having tremendous success.

His recital at the Auditorium tonight will begin promptly at 8.45 so as to allow all those attending church services ample time to get there.

"The Havoc" Treats the Sex Problem.

A press notice says:
"Paul Gilmore's widely discussed play, 'The Havoc,' one of last season's New York successes, will be seen here at the Auditorium, March 24, when the actor-manager will fill his local engagement in H. S. Sheldon's powerful three-act drama. 'The Havoc' is an entirely new treatment of the sex problem and from the American point of view. One critical authority declared that the author has written his story as though he was telling a French farce with absolute seriousness; the difference in method lying in the fact that the abundant comedy of 'The Havoc' is built on sardonic humor, and the husband of the Sheldon play, unlike the husbands of French comedies, is a central character of titanic strength."

Biggest Dramatic Company.

A press notice says:
"It is seldom that dramatic companies are very large or their equipment very heavy; the exception to this is 'Madame X,' the biggest dramatic company on tour this season. The company comprises eighteen acting people besides a working staff of ten who take care of the enormous amount of scenery and electrical effects used in the play. 'Madame X' will be seen in its entirety with the original production on March 27, matinee and night, at the Auditorium."

At the Hippodrome.

A press notice of the Hippodrome says:
"Sowing the Wind" pleased a large audience Monday evening. It is a well written play, dealing with the question of sex against sex. Mr. Mandell did some fine character acting, as Grabazon; Chas. Cubine, as his old time friend, Mr. Watkin, looked and acted the part in a satisfactory manner.

"Lucille Peyton was well cast for the emotional role of Rosamond Athelstain. She was convincing in all her scenes. McLain Yates made his first appearance with this company as Ned Annesley and made a good impression. He read his lines in a forceful and intelligent manner that was pleasing."

"Grace Webber was a natural Maud Fretwell and Anna Wall was the usual society mother. Robert Longmire played Lord Petworth very satisfactorily, as did Robert Williamson Sir William Cursitor. H. Webb Chamberlain did

Mr. Dekim well for the little he had to do."
"Sowing the Wind" will be repeated tonight, also matinee.
"On Thursday 'Out of the Fold' will be given, with all new and special scenery."

WALLACE WILL STICK

MANAGER STOVALL DISCREDITS REPORTS THAT HE WILL FIRE VETERAN.

"Bob, You Are Going to Be Regular Shortstop," Brown Leader Told Him.

Our old friend Bobby Wallace is not to get the cruel axe unless a better shortstop shows up to help the lowly Browns climb the American league hill. We asked Manager Stovall about Wallace yesterday and here's his reply:

"I don't care what the papers in Boston or St. Louis print, you can say for me that Bob Wallace will be a member of the Browns all this season."

"I think Wallace one of the greatest infielders in the game. This spring I told him: 'Bob, you are going to be the regular shortstop of this ball club until we find somebody better—understand? Better, not just as good.' I guess that's plain enough for anybody," continued the Brown's manager.

"I told Mr. Hedges the same thing. You can take my word of honor as a man that Wallace remains with us. I know McAleer would like to have him for the Boston club. Do you suppose a manager of a world's championship team is looking for any has-beens? If Wallace is good enough to play short for the Red Sox he most certainly will be a very valuable player for a club that is trying to keep out of the last place in the league."

"Wallace sticks with the club this season, and you can assure the fans of St. Louis this is a fact. I give you my word."

BIG ATHLETIC EVENT PLANNED

Sports of Panama-Pacific Exposition Will Equal Olympic Games. J. E. Sullivan, Director.

New York, March 18.—In order to forward the plans of the managers of the Panama-Pacific International exposition to make athletics and sport features of the exposition to be held in San Francisco in 1915, James E. Sullivan, secretary-treasurer of the Amateur Athletic union, will leave for the coast on Saturday, sailing on the steamer Monus for New Orleans. He will confer with the officials of the southern officials of the A. A. U. in that city in regard to athletics and expects to visit the Texas association and the clubs in Spokane and Seattle after he has finished his work at the Golden Gate.

Appointed director of athletics by the exposition officials, Mr. Sullivan plans to make the sports at the exposition equal any series of Olympic games ever held through the attendance and competition of the most skilled athletes of the world.

At these games will be decided the amateur championships of America for 1915, action in this regard having been taken at the A. A. U.'s annual meeting last November. The exposition also has been honored with the award by the International Olympic committee of the right to hold the modern pentathlon, a five event series, which will be for the championship of the world. The modern pentathlon consists of riding, cross-country running, swimming, fencing and shooting.

BOY THIEVES DECEIVED.

"Coins" Taken From Phone Boxes Mostly "Slugs."

Chicago, March 18.—The boy thieves brought into court today on the charge of stealing coins from telephone boxes, questioned the honesty of the public. They allege that of 24 coins—supposedly nickels—they had stolen, more than half were bad.

"Take out the slugs and it will be seen we didn't get much to spend," said Robert Barnhardt, one of the prisoners. "It seems to me we are as honest as the persons who put them in the machine."

They were sent to a reform school.

Giants Clash in Exhibition Game With Navigators Today

National League Champions Under Leadership of McGraw Will Arrive at Noon—Carson Will Play His Strongest Team.

That Little Napoleon in baseball, John McGraw, will lead his National league champions into Waco today for the first and only exhibition game during the Giants' stay at Marlin for practice. On the roster of famous ball players in the aggregation will be Big Six Mathewson, Jeff Tesreau, Rube Marquard, Chief Meyers, Larry Doyle and others of the shining lights that assisted materially in bringing home the pennant last season and in tying the world's series with Boston last fall, only to lose the final struggle to Stahl's hand.

The Giants will arrive on the noon train and immediately repair to the Natatorium hotel for a rest. After dinner at the Metropole the players will journey to Katy park and take a long workout before the game is called. McGraw has not announced a lineup, but it is very evident that he will send in most of his veteran players. Jeff Tesreau is almost sure to work a portion of the game on the mound and it may be that Mathewson will do box duty for the Nationals. Carson will send his strongest team against the New Yorkers and they will have to play ball if they prevent the Gothamites from blanking them. This has been a frequent occurrence with many of the Texas league clubs when they met up with either the veteran team or the Yankigans of the Giants.

A great deal of interest has been created with the announcement that Jim Thorpe would be among the players who will wear a New York uniform at Katy park this afternoon. If he falls to come there will be great disappointment. Matty is another player the Waco fans want to see in action. In fact there is every promise that the grandstand will be well filled with enthusiastic spectators when the umpire calls the game at 3:45 o'clock.

BROWNS BLANK NAVIGATORS IN A SNAPPY EXHIBITION GAME FEATURED WITH FAST PLAY

The St. Louis Browns, using a lineup nearly the identity of the nine that represented the Mound City during the latter part of last season, generously applied the whitewash brush to the Waco Navigators, 4 to 0 in the game at Katy park yesterday afternoon. The wonderful one-handed catch of Pratt in the fifth inning with three on bases and one down, saved the score being tied at that stage of the game. He pulled down a line hit from Manager Carson's bat, who was hitting in the place of Lohman, and tossed Crosby out at first, ending the inning.

Stovall's veterans displayed twice the speed and accuracy they showed in a game with the Navigators last week. Only one error was chalked up against the Browns, and that came in the fifth inning when Duguey sent a high fly to left field. It was a hard chance for Bonin with the wind carrying the ball toward the foul line, but he succeeded in getting both mitts on the ball and then dropped it.

The Navigators also showed better form than in any previous game this season. Zach Lohman started the game and held the Browns scoreless for six innings. The first four men who faced him were easy outs. Pratt and Austin both hit safe, but Pratt was caught napping at first and Duguey was out trying to steal. Mitchell singled to right field in the fourth inning, but Walsh and Alexander were retired before he came to the plate on an infield drive and a long fly to center field. Shotton popped up to Duguey at second. He walked Bonin in the fourth and Williams laid down a pretty sacrifice hit, but evidently signals were crossed and Bonin was slow in leaving first base and was nabbed at second. Brief doubled and Pratt pushed a fast one down the first base line to Wohlehaben and retired the side. In the fifth inning Walsh sent a high fly that fell just inside the first base line and went for a hit, but Austin had been retired before him and Alexander and Mitchell were easy outs.

Mitchell Takes Mound.

Stovall started the game with Mitchell on the mound. Only eighteen men faced him in the first five innings and he was lobbing them over without attaching the hooks. Duguey drove the ball to the center field fence in the beginning of the third and was out trying to stretch a single into a double. Shotton fielded the ball remarkably fast and made a perfect peg to second. Crosby was out from Walsh to Brief and Lohman doubled to left field. The last Beck could do was to ground to Mitchell and was out at first. McMahon repeated this play for the first out in the fifth; McMahon flied out to Brief at first and Wohlehaben struck out. The rally commenced in the fifth. Bonnard singled to Austin and the ball was too hot to handle. Crichtlow sent another hot one through Austin to left and Duguey flied to Bonin in left, all being safe when the latter dropped the ball. Crosby grounded to the infield and forced Renard at home. Pratt's wonderful catch of Carson's drive ripped the rally. He pulled the hit down with one hand and threw Crosby out at first.

Two Runs Forced.

The game was less interesting with the beginning of the sixth. Cronin was sent in to relieve Lohman. He walked Shotton. Bonin sacrificed and both were safe when Cronin threw too high to Duguey at second. Williams walked, filling the bases. Brief hit to McMahon and the throw to the plate to get Shotton was too late. Austin walked, forcing a run. Alexander singled to Austin and the ball was too hot to handle. Crichtlow sent another hot one through Austin to left and Duguey flied to Bonin in left, all being safe when the latter dropped the ball. Crosby grounded to the infield and forced Renard at home. Pratt's wonderful catch of Carson's drive ripped the rally. He pulled the hit down with one hand and threw Crosby out at first.

The seventh inning opened with Cronin still on the ground. He got away lucky. Shotton fouled out to Reilly, now catching in the place of Crosby. Bonin walked and was caught trying to steal. Williams struck out. Brief was the first man up in the eighth. He was out on an infield grounder. Pratt singled over third base, stole second and third and came home on a passed ball. This ended scoring, although the Navigators got to Weidman, who relieved Mitchell at the end of the fifth inning, in the eighth inning, and in the last try, Reilly doubled to left in the eighth and Wohlehaben duplicated the feat in the ninth.

Among the spectators in the grandstand were President Hedges of the St. Louis club and President Davidson of the Waco club, and many of the loyal local followers of the game, who have an interest in the Waco club.

Two Comedians in Brown's Camp Fail to Rake in Coins

Before starting his baseball career the St. Louis Brown pitcher with a name that almost ruins every box score in the country, Baumgardner, they call him for short, was a musical director and somewhat of a comedian. Jimmy Walsh, a candidate to play ball twice a day in a spring training camp and kill time between practice. Perhaps this little craving in the breast of the ball players and the don't-care spirit to separate themselves from a few nickels accounts for two negroes who have been seen in the audience and who overheard the players at the Natatorium hotel the other night, and the negroes picked up the five-cent coins very rapidly.

This was too much for Baumgardner and Walsh. They held a conference and decided to smear a little shoe polish on their mugs and give an entertainment in competition with the real black boys. Their plans progressed fine so far as the blackening was concerned and they gave the music, too, but the hitch came when one of the players passed the hat and sic, too, but the hitch came when the act of passing the coins over to the ball-playing comedians he dashed the whole collection into his own pocket and wiped some of the black off Baumgardner's face. But on the level the players would have gotten by with their stunt if it had been anyone else save four newspaper men in the audience and who overheard the plans of the two players.

There was only one disappointed player in the lot and that was Earle Hamilton. Just before the appearance of his incoherent team means he heated a nickel and tossed it on the floor and one of the "real cons" let it go mighty quick when he tried to pick it up.

Potato Crop Damaged.

Houston, Tex., March 18.—While all admit damage to potatoes and other crops in the coast country from frost much diversity of opinion exists as to its extent. Some contend it will not reach 10 per cent while other estimates vary all the way to three-fourths loss.

On account of the crowded condition of our floors and new shipments arriving, we are closing out a big stock of Pianos and Player-Pianos.

If You Are Ever Going to Buy a Piano—Now Is the Right Time

This is just one of those conditions where the Piano buyer gets a price that means a bargain in every sense of the word. We are actually selling brand new guaranteed Pianos at lower prices than used and second-hand Pianos usually bring.

We are offering a few used Pianos, too—but at one-half their real value ($80, $90 and up). Buy one as an investment—use it two or three years and sell it for more than it is going to cost you now.

Prices That Cannot Be Equaled See These Prices TODAY Sure

GROUP A

Good Rebuilt Used Pianos
$80, $90, $125

In this stock you'll find about ten good uprights—pianos that will give you years of service. Prices from $80 to $225. Terms $5 and $6 monthly.

GROUP B

Large Sized New Uprights
$155, $188

We offer three Pianos in this group and they are worth $250 and $275 regularly. Nothing but the necessity of clearing our floor for workmen would lead us to offer these Pianos at such prices. See them today.

GROUP C

Standard New Uprights
$200, $230, $240
$6 TO $8 MONTHLY.

We offer twelve Pianos in this group in all woods—mahogany, oak and walnut. They are worth from $275 to $325, but we must dispose of them to make room for new shipment of Pianos due here this week.

GROUP D

High Grade Uprights and Players
$260, $275, $385
$8 TO $12 MONTHLY.

Forced to sell eighteen high-grade uprights and player-pianos worth from $350 to $500. We consider this the greatest offer we have ever made and without doubt every Piano and Player in this group will go before the end of the week.

THORPE SURE TO MAKE GOOD

Christy Mathewson Says Champion Indian Will Be a Regular When Race Begins.

Marlin, Tex., March 18.—According to no less authority than Christy Mathewson "Indian Jim" Thorpe will be a regular when the bell starts the National league off on its pennant race April 10. Just whom the erstwhile king of amateurs will succeed in the Giant outfield Mathewson does not say, but he says that the Indian has clinched a regular position.

Since he came here two weeks ago with the McGraw band Thorpe has not shown scintillating form as an outfielder, but his work at the bat has been exceptionally deadly. In the six games Thorpe has participated in he has pounded out three home runs and his batting average so far is around the .350 mark. If he can keep up this gait his weakness in the field can be overlooked. Last Monday in a practice game with Mathewson pitching, the footers the Indian lifted one over the left field fence for the longest hit of the training season.

"It is easier to develop a fielder than a hitter," said Mathewson today, "and for that reason I believe that Thorpe will make the team. He is a natural hitter and with his wonderful speed he is bound to make a great outfielder."

McGraw makes no comment on Thorpe's work, but it is plain to all here that the Giants' manager is well pleased with his showing.

FARMER KILLS ANOTHER.

Shooting Results From Trouble of Lone Standing.

Stephenville, Tex., March 18.—All feeling of a year's duration between two young farmers of this section was ended yesterday when W. B. Carry shot and killed Will Griffin.

The two are neighbors, both are married and have families. The nature of the dispute has not been made public. Griffin was shot while cutting stakes in a field. Carry came to Stephenville to give himself up to the police.

Philadelphia Nationals Win.

Fayetteville, N. C., March 18.—The Philadelphia Nationals and Baltimore Internationals played their opening pre-season game here today, Philadelphia winning 12 to 3. Doolin's men pounded the Baltimore pitchers for 13 hits. Baltimore made five hits.

BILL TO LEGALIZE BOXING

Pennsylvania Would Govern Matches By Appointing Commission to Supervise All Bouts.

Harrisburg, Pa., March 18.—Ten-round boxing bouts under the supervision of a state athletic board will be legalized in this state if a bill introduced in the house of representatives here last night becomes a law. The bill provides for a commission of five members to be appointed by the governor within thirty days after the passage of the act. They would have power to subpoena witnesses when investigating any athletic event and would have exclusive control over all boxing and sparring matches. No boxing or sparring match or exhibition could be more than ten rounds in length and contestants would have to wear gloves at least eight ounces in weight.

Each club authorized to give sparring matches would have to be licensed by the commission and file a bond with the auditor general. A provision is made for the payment to the state treasurer a tax of 5 per cent of the gross receipts of each exhibition. For fake boxing a boxer is disqualified from boxing for six months. A second offense means disqualification for all time in the state.

Houston Council to Build Bridges.

Houston, Tex., March 18.—The city council yesterday afternoon approved plans and specifications for two additional concrete bridges across the ship canal, one at the foot of San Jacinto street and the other at the foot of Capital avenue.

COLLEGE NINES GETTING READY

Princeton Will Open the Season With North Carolina Tomorrow—Game in North Saturday.

New York, March 18.—College baseball, already started with some minor games, will get into full swing in the south before the week is up. Princeton, the first of the big college teams to get into action this year, will open its season tomorrow with the North Carolina university team at Raleigh. Other games for the day include "openers" for Lafayette and Georgetown and Holy Cross and Virginia. On Thursday, Pennsylvania state opens with North Carolina, Yale begins Friday with Washington and Lee.

The first game in the north will be played Saturday when the College of the City of New York opens at Fordham. On the same day the naval cadets and Pennsylvania will open their seasons at Annapolis. Harvard will be the last of the big colleges to get into action, opening with the Boston American league nine in Boston on April 8.

Potato Peeler Needed.

Washington, March 18.—Unless some of the wizards who are improving upon nature can turn out a spherical potato, the navy must find a better potato peeling machine than the electric device now in use. Today the department sent out an appeal to inventors to submit a device that will economically peel potatoes. A statement declares "that it seems that the present machines do a most effective and acceptable job on a perfectly round potato but when the 'murfy' arrives long and slender or sawed off and hammered down the trouble begins."

TO HAVE A GREAT EXHIBIT.

The Grand Canyon Is To Be at San Francisco in 1915.

Moving Day is an American institution, whether the date be May first or some other time of the year. Even historic objects are subject to this national fad. Cleopatra's needle, for example, was moved thousands of miles, by land and water; but no one yet has been daring enough to think of carrying away the Grand Canyon of Arizona—not even John Hance, Arizona's most accomplished Hassayampa graduate.

The nearest approach to that impossible feat is the plan of the Santa Fe railway to exhibit a replica of the Canyon at the Panama-Pacific International exposition in San Francisco, during 1915.

A concession has been granted that company for five acres of ground. In this space will be built a reproduction of the canyon and a Pueblo Indian village, at a cost of many thousands

WORK WE DO STAYS DONE

IS NOT A CITY AFFAIR

COMMISSIONER CORRECTS A MIS-
STATEMENT AS TO CONDI-TION OF ROAD.

Times-Herald Article Is Read at the Meeting and Officials Call Attention to Errors.

Quoting from Monday's Times-Herald, in which appeared what Mayor J. H. Mackey called a "reportorial, not an editorial," and which stated that the condition of the Waco creek crossing at about Twenty-second and Austin streets "would probably be brought before the commission at an early date in the hope of getting something done," Commissioner Pat Gorman yesterday explained to the commission that the crossing in question is 125 feet outside of the city limits and that the spot to which the article was intended to refer is several feet further from the limits.

The article, headed "A Bad Crossing," which was read to the commission by City Secretary Davis, was as follows:

Many times in the past few months it has been remarked that the Waco creek crossing at a point about Twenty-second and Austin streets should be fixed so that the scores of people who appear there daily can get across without going several blocks out of the way or else wade through slimy mud which coats a vehicle relentlessly.

The matter probably will be presented to the city commission at an early date in the hope of getting something done, as the matter is occasioning a tremendous loss of time and great inconvenience as matters now stand.

Mr. Gorman said: "It is regrettable that there is some one on the staff of the Times-Herald who is willing to go so far out of his way to reflect on the city commission. This is the second or third article which has accused us recently without the slightest ground on which to base the accusation. I know once we were accused of making certain improvements to assist speculators, when as a matter of fact private individuals were doing the work referred to entirely at their own expense.

"Now, when I read the article this morning I had the city engineer go to the spot and make a personal investigation. He reports that the bridge over Waco creek on Austin street is 125 feet out of the city limits, but that he found the approaches in good shape and he felt certain they could not have given trouble recently. West of the bridge some 200 feet he found a spot in bad condition, but he did not think it a matter to occasion tremendous loss of time."

"Well, at any rate," interposed Mayor Mackey, "it is sufficient to know that we had nothing to do with the place in question; it is entirely out of our jurisdiction."

"It is remarkable," said Mr. Gorman, "that a man would write things of that sort without first investigating the facts. I am not familiar enough with newspapers to say whether that is an editorial or what it is."

"I know," said the mayor, "that it is not an editorial; it's a reportorial."

"I would like the people of Waco who have been influenced by reading that article to take a trip out to our Waco creek crossings on Columbus and Washington streets so that they can see just what sort of work the city does on crossings. You would hardly know you were passing over a creek bed when you reach them. The approaches are of concrete. Of course, the article in the Times-Herald does this commission an injustice, a gross injustice."

The report of the engineer and drawings of the creek and city limits were received and filed. It showed that a slab marks the city limits.

ABEEL WANTS A SIDE TRACK OUT

APPEALS TO CITY COMMISSION FOR RELIEF ALONGSIDE THE BALL PARK.

WILL TAKE IT TO COURTS

Says No Permission Was Ever Granted to Occupy Sidewalk on Jackson Street.

Asking that the city order the Missouri, Kansas & Texas railroad to clear the stack of debris piled on the Jackson street sidewalk next to his ball park and to take up a switch which interferes with the sidewalk at this point, Alfred Abeel appeared before the city commission yesterday and presented his side of the case.

The commission decided that it had the authority to have the railroad company remove the trash at this point and Mayor Mackey said he would attend to the matter at once. As for the taking up of the track, however, the commission doubted whether it had the right to pass upon this matter, and it was referred to the city attorney for an opinion.

Mr. Abeel was frank in his first statement to the commission that he had come "in full war paint" and that unless he could get relief through the city commission he expected to consult counsel about the matter and force the railroad to clear his walk.

Mr. Abeel said his sidewalk had been used in this manner by the railroad company possibly for 20 years, and that "every time I think about what a fool I have been, to permit such an outrage, it makes me mad." He said he felt sure that the commission wanted a passage-way opened for people down Jackson street from Seventh to Eighth, and that the only chance to get such a passage-way is by clearing his walk. Otherwise, people will have to walk down the tracks.

Commissioner Gorman said that the matter of taking up the track might prove troublesome, but that the matter of the removal of the trash was a matter of police regulation and could be handled at once. He said he believed it possible that Mr. Abeel would have to go into the courts to have the track moved.

Mr. Abeel declared himself perfectly ready to go to the courts, if necessary. He said the tracks were first laid there because at that time the present ball park was used as a cotton yard and the tracks were a convenience to the property. Permission was granted at that time to lay tracks upon the property, however, he said, could not mean that permanent right to keep it there should be granted. He said the railroad is using this siding now on which to stand engines and cars when they are in the city.

"The 'audacity' of the railroad was absolutely 'unbearable' and that the only way to get justice from them is to get it through the courts."

"Why, you and I used to be railroad men," said Mr. Gorman, laughing, "and I never heard anybody say we swindled them. You know we never were guilty of anything like that."

"Yes, but you see, you and I never were much railroaders," replied Mr. Abeel. "Anyway, if I can't get relief from the city commission, I shall try the courts, for I'll just be hanged if the road is going to keep that switch on my property."

Mr. Littlefield remembered that the city commission some time ago granted the railroad the right to store its Austin sleeper on this siding at night, but no permission had been given for the use of the track next to the ball park.

Mr. Abeel said he felt that the city commission would like to have this sidewalk for the use of its people.

Mr. Littlefield said since Mr. Abeel felt that way about the Jackson street side, he would like to know how he feels on the Eighth street side, as the city is now endeavoring to get side-walks laid the length of the ball park there for the convenience of the public.

Mr. Abeel laughed and said he would do what the others did about that and it might be that he would help the city get the walks down on Eighth.

The city secretary was then instructed to see whether the road had a franchise for the track on Jackson next to the ball park and to communicate the facts in the case to City Attorney Lud Williams for an opinion.

Mr. Gorman's reference to the fact that he and Mr. Abeel used to be railroad men recalls the fact that when Mr. Abeel was receiver of the Waco & Northwestern railroad, Mr. Gorman was general manager of the company.

SOME SAVING IN WARDROBE

Firemen Get Out the Trunks of Leo Adde and Wife, Actors.

Will Forward.

Costumes, wigs, dancing shoes, spangles and other accessories of the entertainers' profession were spread out yesterday at the central fire station to dry and when in the best shape possible, will be shipped to those who own them.

When the fire destroyed the Horne building recently, Leo Adde and his wife, Miss Coulter, were doing vaudeville at the Elmo theatre. Their entire belongings were in the theatre in their trunks. When they left here what they had was buried under the debris of the fire, and the firemen were still throwing water into the place. Chief A. M. Prescott promised them that he would save what he could, and when the fire boys dug out the debris they watched carefully for the trunk. It was found Monday night and was taken to the central station. The trunk was water-proof, but it had partly burned, so that water got inside and damaged the wardrobe some. Chief Prescott and the boys of the central station took charge of these things, and they are doing their best to save what they can. Mr. Adde and his wife are at Gainesville today, but they will notify the chief where they will be next, and he will send the salvage from the fire to them.

CITY PRIMARY IS FOUND REGULAR

GRAND JURY LOOKS INTO IT AND SAYS COMMITTEE FOL-LOWED LAW.

FINDS THE JAIL IS CLEAN

Commends the Jailor, the Court House
Janitor and the Man at the Poor Farm.

That the recent primary election held in Waco for the nomination of city officials was fair and that not the slightest suspicion should or could be attached to the members of the city democratic executive committee in connection with the holding of the primary, was the report made by the grand jury yesterday, which probed the matter of election frauds to the bottom.

Contained in the report also is commendation of Sheriff S. S. Fleming and Jailor Ed Costley for the manner in which they have kept clean and free from odors the county jail in which, on the date of inspection, was crowded with seventy-four prisoners, and commendation of Chief Janitor Johnston and his force of workers at the courthouse for the cleanliness of that building.

A total of 97 true bills were returned by the grand jury, this being one of the largest budgets reported to the Fifty-fourth district court in many months.

Report in Full.

The report in full is as follows: Waco, Tex., March 18 1913. Hon. Richard I. Munroe, Judge Fifty-fourth District Court, Dear Sir:—

We, the undersigned grand jury for the March term, 1913, beg leave to report as follows:

We have gone through the jail and found that the interior is kept clean and free from odors. The prisoners are orderly and are well cared for. We found seventy-four prisoners in the jail. We endorse and commend Sheriff S. S. Fleming and Jailor Ed Costley in their treatment of the prisoners.

We visited the poor farm and found twenty-three inmates. We find that Superintendent Jess Abbott is keeping the buildings clean and in proper order, and it gives us pleasure to state that, in our opinion, Mr. Abbott is conducting affairs at the poor farm in a businesslike and satisfactory manner.

Investigated the Primary.

On account of the irregularities in the recent city primary election held in Waco, the grand jury was asked to make an investigation. We beg to report that we have made a thorough investigation of this matter and found no irregularities that would justify unfavorable criticism of any one connected with the holding of said election.

We exonerate the city democratic executive committee from even the appearance of any irregularities in the holding of the said election and find that they complied with the law governing the holding of elections.

We have been in session eleven days, have passed on 157 cases, examined 333 witnesses and returned ninety-seven true bills, seventeen being misdemeanors and eighty felonies.

We congratulate the courthouse janitors in keeping the courthouse clean and in good condition.

We desire to express our appreciation of the courtesies shown us by all the county officers and for special courtesies extended us by R. V. McClain, district clerk; Sheriff S. S. Fleming, Leon Wortham, county treasurer, and John McNamara, county attorney.

PRODUCE MEN ARE TO ATTEND

Will Appear before the Commission
Thursday as to Peddler Cars.

A party of wholesale fruit and produce men of Waco will go to Austin Thursday night to appear before the railroad commission at the hearing of the proposed readjustment of regulations governing the transportation of fruits, melons and vegetables.

The cause was originally set for hearing before the commission Tuesday, March 11, and was subsequently postponed to Tuesday, April 8, but has been reset for hearing Friday, March 21.

Shipments of fruit and produce may be stopped at three points while en route, according to the present rule.

ing, with an extra charge of five dollars for each stop.

It is now proposed to allow five stops, with an extra charge of only $3.00 for each stop. The jobbers will object to the change on the ground that it favors too strongly the car peddler, who sells from the car. It is expected that the growers will line up in favor of the proposed change as they feel that through the peddler they have opportunities of reaching a larger market for their products.

Those in the party representing the jobbers of Waco will be James C. Hillard of the freight bureau; C. R. Turner, of the Turner Brokerage company; J. E. Turner, of the Turner-Coffield company; C. W. Wilson of the Rotan Grocery company, and possibly others.

"MISS LIZZIE'S" FOR 25 YEARS

Has Been at Fashion Bazar in This City a Quarter of a Century.

"Mamma, Miss Lizzie has been in the millinery business fifty years," said one little girl when she read of the golden opening that was announced by Mrs. Lizzie Egan McDonnell, of the Fashion Bazar.

"Miss Lizzie," as everyone affectionately calls her, has not been in business fifty years, but yesterday was her fiftieth semi-annual opening. It rounds out a career of twenty-five years in business here, herself, and during that time she has fashioned the hats for the girls, the young ladies and the mothers, and then for their little girls, starting again on another generation. Miss Lizzie was a milliner, however, before she had her own business, and there are some of the old citizens who remember her as the accommodating little trimmer for Miss Kate Stout, when Miss Kate was the producer of things ultra fashionable in millinery.

The hats were not in so many funny shapes in those old days, and they had not begun then to name the colors after the daughters of the presidents and the openings were not as gorgeous and Easter did not come so early, and the tired shop boy had to deliver everything himself, and there was no automobile wagon to carry the bundles. The quarter of a century which marks Miss Lizzie's management of her own business has brought her to a successful commercial importance. Her friends are many and are both the old and the new buyers and wearers of pretty ribbons and fetching hats.

Yesterday was the opening of the Fashion Bazar for the spring and summer of 1913. There were many pretty displays, but it is better to talk of the colors than of the shapes. There is a robe de rose, burnt orange, old blues, neilrose and many others. Most of the hats are small. There are some feathers, but the decorations run mostly to flowers.

During the day many friends called to congratulate Mrs. McDonnell on her golden opening day.

Every lady should see the demonstration of the Caloric Fireless Cook Stove all this week at the Waco Hardware and Furniture Co. 7-22

Mineral Wells, Tex., March 18.—Mrs. G. H. Russell, who was burned by her dress catching fire yesterday, died last night. Her son Leo, who extinguished the flames, burned his hands so badly that he may lose his thumb.

delivered everything himself, and there was no automobile wagon to carry the bundles. The quarter of a century which marks Miss Lizzie's management of her own business has brought her to a successful commercial importance. Her friends are many and are both the old and the new buyers and wearers of pretty ribbons and fetching hats.

Yesterday was the opening of the Fashion Bazar for the spring and summer of 1913. There were many pretty displays, but it is better to talk of the colors than of the shapes. There is a robe de rose, burnt orange, old blues, neilrose and many others. Most of the hats are small. There are some feathers, but the decorations run mostly to flowers.

During the day many friends called to congratulate Mrs. McDonnell on her golden opening day.

Every lady should see the demonstration of the Caloric Fireless Cook Stove all this week at the Waco Hardware and Furniture Co. 7-22
